Name, formation and history of the funds

This annual information form contains information about the RBC Underlying Funds listed on the cover page. In this document:

- › we, us and our refer to RBC Global Asset Management Inc. (RBC GAM); and
- › fund or funds refers to the funds or series of the funds listed on the front cover.

The principal address of each of the funds is c/o RBC Global Asset Management Inc., 155 Wellington Street West, Suite 2200, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 3K7.

RBC GAM is the manager, portfolio advisor and principal distributor of each of the funds. RBC GAM was formed upon the amalgamation of Phillips, Hager & North Investment Management Ltd. (PH&N) and its affiliate, RBC Asset Management Inc., effective November 1, 2010. RBC GAM is the primary investment manager for the RBC® businesses serving the needs of private clients, including the funds, RBC Funds and PH&N Funds. See Responsibility for operations of the funds on page 14. RBC GAM and RBC Dominion Securities Inc. (RBC DS) are both wholly-owned subsidiaries of Royal Bank of Canada (Royal Bank). We refer to Royal Bank and affiliated companies of Royal Bank as RBC.

All dollar amounts in this document are in Canadian dollars, unless we state otherwise.

Each fund is an open-ended mutual fund organized as a limited partnership governed by the laws of Ontario and by a limited partnership agreement dated as of December 21, 2011 (each, a Limited Partnership Agreement) signed by RBC Corporate Class GP Inc. (the general partner), as general partner of the applicable fund, and RBC Corporate Class Inc., as the initial limited partner of the applicable fund. Each fund is divided into one general partner unit, representing the interest in the fund held by the general partner, and Series O limited partnership units (units) representing interests in the fund held by its limited partner unitholders (unitholders).

Each fund was established on December 21, 2011.

Investment practices and restrictions

Investments

Each fund is designed to meet the investment objectives of different investors. Please refer to the simplified prospectus of the funds for a description of the investment objective of each fund.

The fundamental investment objective of a fund may not be changed without the consent of a majority of voting unitholders of the fund. RBC GAM can make other changes to the investment strategies and activities of a fund without the consent of unitholders, subject to any required approval of the Canadian securities regulators and/or the Board of Governors in its role as the independent review committee of the fund. In the discussion below, “fund” or “funds” may also refer to the mutual funds (reference funds) to which a fund provides exposure by entering into one or more forward contracts.

Investments in derivative instruments

The funds may use derivatives as permitted by the Canadian securities regulators for hedging or non-hedging purposes. The risk factors associated with the use of derivatives are disclosed in the simplified prospectus of the funds.

RBC GAM is responsible for managing the risks associated with the use of derivatives. RBC GAM has written guidelines that set out the objectives and goals for derivatives trading, which are established and reviewed annually by the board of directors of RBC GAM. In addition, RBC GAM has written control policies and procedures in place that set out the risk management procedures applicable to derivatives trading. These policies and procedures set out specific procedures for the authorization, documentation, reporting, monitoring and review of derivative strategies ensuring that these functions are performed by individuals independent of those who trade. Limits and controls on derivatives trading are part of RBC GAM's compliance regime. All derivatives transactions are reviewed by a specially trained team that ensures that the derivative positions of the funds are within the existing control policies and procedures. RBC GAM does not currently conduct simulations to test the portfolio under stress conditions. Derivative strategies are regularly monitored by RBC GAM management and reviewed by the Financial Advisory Committee of the Board of Governors of the funds on an annual basis. See Corporate governance of the funds on page 20. Compliance with these policies and procedures is monitored periodically by internal auditors of Royal Bank.

Securities lending transactions, repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements

The funds may enter into securities lending arrangements and repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions in accordance with the rules of the Canadian Securities Administrators, subject to the exemptions therefrom described below under Investment restrictions – Securities lending transactions.

RBC GAM may appoint a securities lending agent to act as the agent of RBC GAM and the funds and to enter into securities lending transactions, repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements on behalf of the funds, pursuant to an agency agreement. The agency agreement will provide for the types of transactions that may be entered into by a fund, the types of portfolio assets of the funds that may be used, collateral requirements, permitted counterparties to the transactions and investment of any collateral. The agent will:

- › ensure that collateral is provided in the form of cash, qualified securities or securities that can be converted into the securities which are the subject of the securities lending, repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions;
- › value the loaned or purchased securities and the collateral every day to ensure that the collateral is worth at least 102 per cent of the value of the securities;
- › invest any collateral in accordance with the investment restrictions specified in the agency agreement; and
- › assess the creditworthiness of the counterparties to securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions.

The securities lending transactions of a fund may be terminated by the fund at any time. Repurchase agreements or reverse repurchase agreements of the funds will have a maximum term of 30 days.

RBC GAM and the securities lending agent will review the agency agreement and the securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase arrangements annually to ensure that they comply with the fund governance policies as described above.

The risk factors associated with securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions are disclosed in the simplified prospectus of the funds. RBC GAM is responsible for managing the risks associated with securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions. RBC GAM has written guidelines that set out the objectives and goals with respect to securities lending arrangements, repurchase transactions and reverse repurchase transactions which are established and reviewed annually by the board of directors of RBC GAM. RBC GAM has written control policies and procedures in place that set out the risk management practices applicable to securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions. RBC GAM does not currently conduct simulations to test the portfolio under stress conditions. Any securities lending arrangements and repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements are monitored regularly by RBC GAM management and reviewed by the Financial Advisory Committee of the Board of Governors of the funds on an annual basis. See Corporate governance of the funds on page 20. Internal auditors of Royal Bank monitor compliance with these policies and procedures periodically.

Investment restrictions

Subject to the exceptions described below, we manage each of the funds in accordance with the standard mutual fund investment restrictions and practices (the restrictions) contained in securities legislation, including National Instrument 81-102

– Mutual Funds (NI 81-102) and National Instrument 81-107 – Independent Review Committee for Investment Funds (NI 81-107). The restrictions are designed in part to ensure that the investments of the funds are diversified and relatively liquid and to ensure the proper administration of the funds. The exceptions applicable to all funds described below may only be relied upon by a fund where consistent with the investment objectives of the fund.

Related issuer securities

Generally, the restrictions prevent a fund from purchasing the securities of a related issuer. A fund is permitted, however, to purchase the securities of a related issuer if the purchase is made on an exchange on which the securities are listed and traded. This means a fund can purchase, for example, listed common and preferred shares. RBC GAM has received relief which permits a fund to purchase debt securities of a related issuer, provided that:

- (i) the purchase occurs in the secondary market;
- (ii) the debt security has an approved credit rating by an approved credit rating organization;
- (iii) the price payable is not more than the ask price of the security determined as follows:
 - (A) if the purchase occurs on a marketplace, in accordance with the requirements of the marketplace;
 - (B) if the purchase does not occur on a marketplace,
 - (1) the price at which an independent seller is willing to sell; or
 - (2) not more than the price quoted publicly by an independent marketplace or obtained from an independent party.

RBC GAM has also received relief which permits a fund to purchase debt securities of a related issuer (other than asset-backed securities), with a term to maturity of 365 days or more, offered in the primary market (i.e. from the issuer) (an offering), provided that:

- (i) the size of the offering is at least $100 million;
- (ii) at least two arm's-length purchasers collectively purchase at least 20 per cent of the securities issued in the offering;
- (iii) following the purchase, the fund does not have more than five per cent of its net assets invested in the debt securities of the issuer;
- (iv) following the purchase, the fund and related mutual funds for which RBC GAM acts as portfolio advisor and/or manager collectively do not hold more than 20 per cent of the securities issued in the offering; and
- (v) the purchase price is no more than the lowest price paid by any arm's-length purchaser.

Principal trading

Generally, the restrictions prevent a fund from purchasing securities from or selling securities to a related party acting as principal. A fund is, however, permitted to engage in such transactions if the bid and ask price are reported by any public quotation. A fund is also permitted to purchase debt securities from or sell debt securities to another fund, subject to certain conditions in NI 81-102 and NI 81-107. RBC GAM has received relief which permits a fund to purchase debt securities from or sell debt securities to a related party that is a principal dealer in the Canadian debt securities market, provided that:

- (i) the transaction occurs in the secondary market;
- (ii) the bid and ask price of the security must be determined by reference to a quote from an independent party if not publicly available;
- (iii) a purchase must not be executed at a price higher than the ask price and a sale must not be executed at a price which is lower than the bid price.

Related party underwriting

Generally, a fund is prohibited from investing in securities in respect of which a related party has acted as underwriter during the distribution and for 60 days thereafter. A fund is, however, permitted to purchase debt and equity securities in respect of which a related party has acted as underwriter if certain conditions in NI 81-102 are met, including, in respect of equity securities, that a prospectus is filed in respect of the securities. RBC GAM has received relief which permits a fund to purchase equity securities where a prospectus has not been filed, provided that:

- (i) the issuer is a reporting issuer in Canada;
- (ii) the conditions which apply to purchases where a prospectus has been filed are complied with.

RBC GAM has obtained relief which permits a fund to purchase equity securities distributed in the United States provided that:

- (i) any related party that is involved in the distribution is regulated in respect of its underwriting activities in Canada or the United States;
- (ii) the securities issued in the distribution must be listed on a recognized exchange and if the securities are acquired during the 60-day period after the distribution they are acquired on a recognized exchange; and
- (iii) the conditions which apply to the purchase of equity securities distributed in Canada in respect of which a related party has acted as underwriter are complied with.

RBC GAM has obtained relief which permits a fund to purchase debt securities (other than asset-backed commercial paper) in respect of which a related party has acted as underwriter notwithstanding that the debt securities do not have an approved rating by an approved credit rating organization, provided that:

- (i) if the securities are acquired in a distribution,
 - (A) at least one underwriter acting as underwriter in the distribution is not a related dealer;
 - (B) at least one purchaser who is independent and arm's-length to the fund and the related dealer must purchase at least five per cent of the securities distributed under the distribution;
 - (C) the price paid for the securities by the fund in the distribution shall be no higher than the lowest price paid by any of the arm's-length purchasers who participate in the distribution; and
 - (D) the fund and any related funds for which RBC GAM or its affiliate or associate acts as manager and/or portfolio advisor can collectively acquire no more than 20 per cent of the securities distributed under the distribution in which a related dealer acts as underwriter;
- (ii) if the securities are acquired in the 60-day period,
 - (A) the ask price of the securities is readily available as provided in Commentary 7 to section 6.1 of NI 81-107;
 - (B) the price paid for the securities by a fund is not higher than the available ask price of the security; and
 - (C) the purchase is subject to market integrity requirements as defined in NI 81-107.

Inter-fund trades

Under NI 81-102 and NI 81-107, the funds are permitted to engage in certain inter-fund trades subject to certain conditions, including that the inter-fund trade be executed at the "current market price" of the security. RBC GAM has received relief which permits a fund to engage in inter-fund trades if the security is an exchange-traded security or a foreign exchange-traded security, executed at the last sale price immediately before the trade is executed, on the exchange upon which the security is listed or quoted.

Pursuant to exemptive relief obtained on behalf of the funds, each fund is permitted to engage in certain trades of portfolio securities, including mortgages, with investment funds that are not subject to NI 81-107 and with discretionary accounts managed by RBC GAM or related parties, subject to complying with similar conditions as those set out in NI 81-107, as well as additional terms and conditions that apply to mortgage transactions, including valuation requirements.

Board of Governors review

Appropriate records of the transactions described above (referred to, collectively, as Related Party Trading Activities) must be maintained and, in certain cases, particulars must be filed with the securities regulatory authorities. In addition, the Board of Governors, in its role as the independent review committee of a fund, must approve the policies and procedures of RBC GAM in respect of Related Party Trading Activities and the Board of Governors and RBC GAM must act in accordance with the requirements of NI 81-107 in respect of standing instructions and reporting to securities regulatory authorities.

The Board of Governors of the funds has approved standing instructions in respect of Related Party Trading Activities. In accordance with the conditions of the applicable standing instructions of the Board of Governors, the Board of Governors reviews Related Party Trading Activities at least quarterly with the exception of the principal trading activities, which are reviewed at least annually. In its review, the Board of Governors considers whether investment decisions in respect of Related Party Trading Activities:

- › were made by RBC GAM in the best interests of the fund and were free from any influence of Royal Bank and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates;
- › were in compliance with the conditions of the policies and procedures of RBC GAM;
- › were in compliance with the applicable standing instructions of the Board of Governors; and
- › achieved a fair and reasonable result for the fund.

The Board of Governors must advise the securities regulatory authorities if it determines that an investment decision in respect of Related Party Trading Activities was not made in accordance with the foregoing requirements.

Additional information about the members of the Board of Governors is disclosed under the heading Corporate governance of the funds – Board of Governors on page 21.

Derivative transactions

The funds have received an exemption from the securities regulatory authorities to extend the category of investments that constitute cash cover for specified derivatives entered into by the funds to include certain liquid fixed-income securities that have a remaining term to maturity of 365 days or less, floating rate securities that have an interest rate reset no later than every 185 days and securities of the RBC money market funds.

The funds have received from the securities regulatory authorities an exemption from certain of the derivatives rules in NI 81-102, which allows the funds, when they use derivative instruments as described under Investments in derivative instruments on page 2, to:

- › enter into interest rate swaps, credit default swaps and currency forwards with a remaining term to maturity of greater than three years; and
- › use as cover when a fund has a long position in a debt-like security that has a component that is a long position in a forward contract or in a standardized futures or forward contract or when a fund has a right to receive payments under a swap:
 - (i) cash cover in an amount that, together with margin on account for the specified derivative and the market value of the specified derivative, is not less than, on a daily mark-to-market basis, the underlying market exposure of the specified derivative;

- (ii) a right or obligation to sell an equivalent quantity of the underlying interest of the futures or forward contract, and cash cover that, together with margin on account for the position, is not less than the amount, if any, by which the strike price of the futures or forward contract exceeds the strike price of the right or obligation to sell the underlying interest;
- (iii) a right or obligation to enter into an offsetting swap on an equivalent quantity and with an equivalent term and cash cover that, together with margin on account for the position, is not less than the aggregate amount, if any, of the obligations of the fund under the swap less the obligations of the fund under such offsetting swap; or
- (iv) a combination of the positions referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) for debt-like securities with a long position in a forward or in a standardized futures or forward contract or of the positions referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (iii) in the case of a swap, that is sufficient, without recourse to other assets of the fund, to enable the fund to acquire the underlying interest of the futures or forward contract or satisfy its obligations under the swap.

Reference fund forward transactions

RBC GAM has received an exemption from the securities regulatory authorities to permit each fund to enter into one or more forward contracts (each, a reference fund forward) to provide exposure to the return of a reference fund that is not currently offered under a simplified prospectus.

Securities lending transactions

RBC GAM has applied for an exemption from the securities regulatory authorities to permit each fund to:

- (i) enter into securities lending transactions in which the aggregate market value of securities loaned by the fund exceeds 50 per cent of the total assets of the fund;
- (ii) not hold or dispose of any non-cash collateral delivered to it as a collateral in the transaction;
- (iii) appoint an agent, other than the custodian or sub-custodian of the fund, as agent for administering the securities lending transactions entered into by the fund; and
- (iv) arrange for the collateral delivered to the fund in connection with a securities lending transaction to not be held under the custodianship of the custodian or a sub-custodian of the fund.

Tax status

Units of the funds will not be qualified investments for trusts governed by registered plans or tax-free savings accounts (*TFSA*s). See *Income tax considerations – Eligibility for registered plans and TFSA*s on page 25.

Description of units of the funds

Each fund is a separate limited partnership. Each fund is divided into one general partner unit of the limited partnership and Series O units of the limited partnership. Such series of units are divided into units of participation of equal value. Series O units are only available to institutional investors who make the required minimum investment and minimum subsequent investment, as determined by RBC GAM from time to time. No management fees are payable by a fund in respect of Series O units. Unitholders of Series O units pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM.

Each fund is authorized to issue an unlimited number of Series O units. All Series O units of a fund have equal rights and privileges. The interest of each unitholder in a fund is shown by how many units are registered in the name of such unitholder. No Series O unit of a fund has any preference or priority over another Series O unit of the fund.

Pursuant to the terms of the Limited Partnership Agreement of a fund, no unitholder owns any asset of the fund.

Series O Units of each of the funds have the following attributes:

1. the units have no voting rights except as required by securities legislation or applicable partnership law. Please see Meeting of unitholders below for a description of certain of your voting rights as a unitholder; as the funds are limited partnerships, there are no annual unitholders' meetings;
2. on the termination of a fund, the assets of the fund will be distributed and all units in the fund will share in the value of the fund following the return to the general partner of its initial capital contribution to the fund;
3. the units have redemption rights;
4. there are no conversion rights;
5. there are no pre-emptive rights;
6. the units cannot be transferred, except in limited circumstances;
7. the units may be sub-divided or consolidated by us without notice to unitholders of the fund; and
8. subject to the unitholder approval and notice requirements described below, these attributes may be amended from time to time by RBC GAM, as manager of the funds.

Please see Meeting of unitholders below for a description of your voting rights as a mutual fund unitholder.

Meeting of unitholders

Unitholders do not have the right to vote except as required by applicable partnership legislation or by Canadian securities legislation.

Unless the funds receive an exemption from the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, the following changes cannot be made to a fund unless a majority of voting unitholders of the fund approve of them:

1. a change in the manager of the fund (other than to an affiliate of RBC GAM);
2. a change in the fundamental investment objectives of the fund;
3. in certain cases, if the fund undertakes a reorganization with, or transfer of its assets to, another mutual fund or acquires another mutual fund's assets; and
4. if the unit value of the fund will be calculated less often.

At any meeting of unitholders of a fund, each unitholder will be entitled to one vote for each whole unit registered in the unitholder's name.

In certain, very limited circumstances, a fund's reorganization with, or transfer of assets to, another mutual fund may be carried out without the prior approval of the unitholders of the fund provided that the Board of Governors approves the transaction pursuant to NI 81-107, the reorganization or transfer complies with certain requirements of NI 81-102 and NI 81-107, as applicable, and unitholders of the fund are sent a written notice at least 60 days before the effective date of the change.

The auditor of a fund may be changed without the prior approval of the unitholders of the fund provided that the Board of Governors approves the change and unitholders of the fund are sent a written notice at least 60 days before the effective date of the change.

Except as described below, unitholders of a fund will be given 60 days' notice of any amendment to the Limited Partnership Agreement of the fund.

The Limited Partnership Agreement of a fund may be amended without approval of, or notice to, unitholders of the fund, if the proposed amendment:

- › is not expected to materially adversely affect the interests of unitholders;
- › is intended to ensure compliance with applicable laws, regulations or policies;
- › is intended to provide additional protection to unitholders;
- › is intended to remove conflicts or inconsistencies or to correct typographical, clerical or other errors; or
- › is intended to facilitate the administration of the fund or to respond to amendments to the Income Tax Act (Canada) which might otherwise adversely affect the interests of the fund or its unitholders.

The approval of unitholders of the fund is required if the proposed amendment:

- › reduces a unitholder's share of the net income of the fund, reduces the interest of a unitholder in the fund or changes the liability of the unitholder;
- › changes the fund from a limited partnership to a general partnership; or
- › changes the right of a unitholder to approve any matter specified in the Limited Partnership Agreement as requiring unitholder approval.

Because no sales charges and no redemption fees apply to Series O units of the funds, a meeting of unitholders of that series is not required to be held to approve the introduction of a fee or expense that could result in an increase in charges to that series or unitholders of that series, or any changes in the basis of calculation of a fee or expense that is charged to that series in a way that could result in an increase in charges to that series or unitholders of that series. Any such changes will only be made if notice is mailed to the applicable unitholders at least 60 days prior to the valuation date on which the increase is to take effect. The Board of Governors must review and provide a recommendation with regard to any proposed increase in the management fees or administration fees of a fund.

Copies of the simplified prospectus and financial statements of a reference fund will be delivered to unitholders of a fund at no cost by calling us at 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French).

Calculation of unit value

You buy or redeem units of a fund at the net asset value per unit for the series of the fund (unit value). The issue or redemption price of units of a series of a fund is the next unit value of that series of the fund determined after the receipt of the purchase or redemption order. The unit value of a series of a fund is determined on each valuation date after the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) closes or at such other time that RBC GAM decides (valuation time). The valuation date for a fund is any day when RBC GAM's office in Toronto is open for business.

Here is how we calculate the unit value of a series of a fund:

- › We take the fair value of all the investments and other assets allocated to the series.
- › We subtract the liabilities allocated to the series. This gives us the net asset value for the series.
- › We divide this amount by the total number of units of the series that investors in the fund are holding. That gives us the unit value for the series.

To determine what your investment in a fund is worth, simply multiply the unit value of the series you own by the number of units you own.

Valuation of securities held by a fund

The value of any security or property held by a fund or any of its liabilities will be determined in the following way:

- › Cash, bills, demand notes, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, cash dividends received or receivable, distributions receivable and interest accrued and not yet received, will be valued at their full amount unless RBC GAM has determined that the cash or other asset is not worth that amount. RBC GAM will then determine a reasonable value.
- › Securities quoted in foreign currencies are translated to Canadian dollars using the prevailing rate of exchange as quoted by customary banking sources on the valuation date.
- › If the unit value of a fund is also expressed in a foreign currency, the value in foreign currency is determined by using the prevailing rate of exchange as quoted by customary banking sources on the valuation day.
- › Both funds value bonds, debentures and other obligations by taking the average of the latest available bid and ask quotations on the valuation date. Notes and money market instruments are valued at their current market value on the valuation date. RBC GAM may determine this value based on the cost of the investments, which approximates market value after taking into account accrued interest which is recorded separately from the investment. If short-term instruments are sold, the difference between the cost and the proceeds (less income previously credited for such security) will be recorded as income not capital.
- › The value of any security which is listed or dealt in any stock exchange or exchanges is generally determined by taking its latest available sale price of a board lot on the principal stock exchange on which it is listed. However, the following exceptions apply:
 - where RBC GAM is lacking any such sales or records, or if the last such sale is not within the latest available bid and ask quotations on the valuation date, RBC GAM will have the discretion to determine the fair value of the listed security based on market quotations RBC GAM believes most closely reflect the fair value of the investment;

- in calculating the value of inter-listed investments, RBC GAM may permit over-the-counter (OTC) rather than stock exchange quotations to be used when they appear to reflect more closely the fair value of any particular investment; but if such stock exchange or OTC quotations do not properly reflect the prices which would be received by the fund upon the disposal of such investments, RBC GAM may place values upon such investments which appear to it to reflect most closely the fair value of such investments; and
- in calculating the value of foreign securities listed or dealt in exchanges outside North America, RBC GAM will place values upon such securities which appear to reflect most closely the fair value of such securities.
- › Long positions in clearing corporation options, options on futures, OTC options, debt-like securities and listed warrants shall be valued at their current market value.
- › Where a covered clearing corporation option, option on futures or OTC option is written, the premium received by a fund shall be reflected as a deferred credit which shall be valued at an amount equal to the current market value of the clearing corporation option, option on futures or OTC option that would have the effect of closing the position. Any differences resulting from the revaluation will be treated as an unrealized gain or loss on investment. The deferred credit will be deducted in arriving at the net asset value of the fund. The securities, if any, which are the subject of a written clearing corporation option or OTC option will be valued at their current market value.
- › The value of a futures contract, forward contract or swap will be the gain or loss that would be realized if, on the valuation date, the position in the futures contract, forward contract or swap, as the case may be, were to be closed out unless daily limits are in effect, in which case fair value, based on the current market value of the underlying interest, shall be determined by RBC GAM.
- › Margin paid or deposited in respect of futures contracts and forward contracts will be reflected as an account receivable and margin consisting of assets other than cash shall be noted as held as margin.
- › The value of any security which is not listed or dealt in upon any stock exchange is determined at the most recently available sale price on a valuation date, or if such sale price is not available, at a sale price determined by RBC GAM, based on relevant market and/or company data that RBC GAM believes most closely reflects the fair value of the investment.
- › In this annual information form, unless otherwise indicated, current market value means the most recently available sale price applicable to the relevant security on the principal exchange on which it is traded immediately preceding the valuation time on the valuation date, provided that, if no sale has taken place on a valuation date, the average of the bid and ask quotations immediately prior to the valuation time on the valuation date shall be used.
- › Units of the various mutual funds in which a fund may invest that are managed by RBC GAM will be valued at their respective unit values on the relevant valuation date.
- › If a valuation date of a fund is not a business day for a specific market, the prices or quotations of the prior business day will be used to value any asset or liability for such market.
- › If the valuation principles described above are not appropriate, RBC GAM will determine a value which it considers to be fair and reasonable. For example, on November 26, 2009, RBC GAM could not apply the valuation principles described above with respect to U.S. equity securities due to market volatility. At that time, it used a value which it considered to be fair and reasonable for such securities.

In accordance with National Instrument 81-106 – Investment Fund Continuous Disclosure, the fair value of the securities used to determine the net asset value per unit of a series (Pricing NAV) will be based on the funds' valuation rules set out above, which may not be the same as the Canadian GAAP requirements. For example, Canadian GAAP requires that the fair value of actively traded securities held by a fund should be valued at the bid price, instead of the close price or last sale price of the securities for the day. Hence, the reported value of securities held by a fund in the annual and interim financial statements may be different from the fair value of the securities used to determine Pricing NAV. The financial statements of the funds will disclose the Pricing NAV for a series.

Copies of the simplified prospectus and financial statements of a reference fund will be delivered to unitholders of a fund at no cost by calling us at 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French).

Purchases, switches and redemptions of units

How to buy, redeem and switch

Series O units are only available to institutional investors who make the required minimum investment and minimum subsequent investment, as determined by RBC GAM from time to time. No management fees are payable by a fund in respect of Series O units. Unitholders of Series O units pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM.

If your balance falls below the minimum required balance for a fund, or you otherwise become ineligible to hold a fund, we may redeem your units. If we redeem your units, the effect will be the same as if you initiated the transaction.

For us to act on an order to buy, redeem or switch units, the branch, telephone salesperson or dealer must send the order to us on the same day it is received and assume all associated costs.

If we receive your order before 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, your order will be processed using that day's unit value. If we receive your order after 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, your order will be processed using the next business day's unit value. If we determine that the unit value will be calculated at a time other than after the usual closing time of the TSX, the unit value paid or received will be determined relative to that time. All orders are processed within three business days. A dealer may establish earlier cut-off times. Check with your dealer for details.

Within three business days after a purchase order is received, we will issue the units, subject to our right of rejection, at the unit value of the series on the date that the purchase order was received. Units may be issued only for cash.

RBC GAM may accept or reject purchase orders, in whole or in part, within one business day of the order. If a purchase order is rejected, the monies received with the order will be returned to the investor immediately.

Your dealer may make arrangements with you that will require you to compensate your dealer for any losses suffered by the dealer in connection with a failed purchase order caused by you.

Each fund is a limited partnership. When you invest in a fund, you are buying units in the limited partnership and becoming a limited partner thereof. Your rights and obligations as a limited partner and unitholder will be governed by the Limited Partnership Agreement of the fund and the laws of the Province of Ontario. In acquiring units, you become a party to such Limited Partnership Agreement and, among other things: (i) acknowledge that you are bound by the terms of such Limited Partnership Agreement and are liable for all obligations of a limited partner; (ii) make certain representations and warranties; and (iii) irrevocably appoint us and the general partner as your true and lawful attorney with the full power and authority set out in the Limited Partnership Agreement. You should carefully review the Limited Partnership Agreement of the applicable fund for complete details of its provisions. For a copy of this document, at no cost, call us at 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French), email us at funds.investments@rbc.com (English) or fonds.investissements@rbc.com (French) or ask your dealer.

Switches of units

A switch is the exchange of units of one mutual fund for units of another. You can switch units from one fund to another mutual fund managed by us as long as you maintain the relevant minimum balance in each mutual fund.

You can only switch between securities denominated in the same currency. See Purchases, switches and redemptions – How to buy, redeem and switch in the simplified prospectus for the funds.

Once we receive your order to switch, we will sell your units in the fund from which you are switching as described below under Redemptions and use the proceeds to buy securities of the mutual fund to which you are switching.

If a unitholder requests a switch from a fund to another mutual fund, the purchase of securities of the other mutual fund will be at the value of such securities on the date of redemption from the fund.

Switching may result in a gain or loss for tax purposes. See Income tax considerations on page 23.

Redemptions

You can sell units at any time. This is called a redemption. Your dealer must send your redemption request on the same day it is received. Redemption requests will be processed in the order in which they are received. The fund will not process redemption requests specifying a forward date or specific price. Your dealer will assume all associated costs.

Redemption requests for the funds must be for an amount of at least $25 (unless the account balance is less than $25).

Within three business days following each valuation date, we will pay to each unitholder who has requested a redemption the value of the units determined on the valuation date. Payments will be considered made upon deposit of the redemption proceeds in the unitholder's bank account or the mailing of a cheque in a postage prepaid envelope addressed to the unitholder unless the cheque is not honoured for payment.

Your redemption (or switch) transaction will not be processed until your dealer has received all documentation. Your dealer will inform you of the documentation it requires. Your dealer must provide all required documents to us within 10 business days of the date of your redemption order. If not, we will repurchase the units for your account. If the cost of repurchasing the units is less than the sale proceeds, the fund will keep the difference. If the cost of repurchasing the units is more than the sale proceeds, your dealer must pay the difference and any related costs. Your dealer may require you to reimburse the amount paid if the dealer suffers a loss.

When you may not be allowed to redeem your units

Under extraordinary circumstances, you may not be allowed to redeem your units. We may refuse your order to redeem if:

- › normal trading is suspended on any stock exchange or market where more than 50 per cent of the assets to which a fund provides exposure are listed or traded; or
- › we get permission from the Canadian Securities Administrators to temporarily suspend the redemption of units.

A fund will not allow the purchase of units when the right to redeem units is suspended.

Responsibility for operations of the funds

Manager and principal distributor

RBC GAM is the manager and principal distributor of the funds. The address, phone number and website address of RBC GAM is 155 Wellington Street West, Suite 2200, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 3K7, 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French) and www.rbcgam.com. You can contact us by email at funds.investments@rbc.com (English) or fonds.investissements@rbc.com (French).

RBC GAM manages the funds pursuant to the terms of a master management agreement (the Management Agreement) between each fund and RBC GAM dated as of December 21, 2011.

Pursuant to the Management Agreement, RBC GAM has authority to manage the business and affairs of the funds and is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the funds, including valuation services and security holder records, and supervises brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of fund securities and other assets. No management fees are payable by a fund in respect of Series O units. Unitholders of Series O units pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM. RBC GAM currently manages other mutual funds offered to the public.

The Management Agreement may be terminated on 90 days' written notice by a party. However, a fund may terminate the Management Agreement at any time, without notice, including if RBC GAM fails to perform its duties under the Management Agreement, becomes bankrupt or insolvent or fails to maintain any registration or qualification it needs in order to act as a manager of the fund.

RBC GAM may resign as manager of a fund provided that unitholders of that fund approve of the new manager. Unitholder approval is not required if the new manager is an affiliate of RBC GAM but 60 days' notice of the new manager will be given to unitholders of the fund.

Portfolio advisor

RBC GAM provides portfolio advisory services to the funds pursuant to the terms of the Management Agreement.

RBC GAM is responsible for the management of the funds' investment portfolios. No management fees are payable by a fund in respect of Series O units. Unitholders of Series O units pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM.

The name, title and length of service by persons employed by RBC GAM who are principally responsible for the day-to-day management of a fund or implementing its investment strategy are shown in the table below:

NAME	FUNDS FOR WHICH RESPONSIBLE	POSITION AND OFFICE	PRINCIPAL BUSINESS ASSOCIATION DURING PRECEDING FIVE YEARS
Daniel E. Chornous	Both funds	Director and Chief Investment Officer	Received B. Comm. from University of Manitoba; Chartered Financial Analyst; associated with RBC GAM since 2002
Sarah Riopelle	Both funds	Vice-President and Senior Portfolio Manager, Investment Solutions	Chartered Financial Analyst; associated with RBC GAM since 2003

The portfolio managers of the funds may invest the assets of the funds to gain exposure to the return of the reference funds. For more information about the portfolio managers of the reference funds, please see the annual information form of the reference funds.

The investment decisions of the individuals listed in the table above made on behalf of RBC GAM are not subject to the oversight, approval or ratification of any committee. The investment decision-making process is supported by research, analysis and internal investment committees. Investment decisions are overseen by the Chief Investment Officer.

Brokerage arrangements

RBC GAM makes decisions as to the purchase and sale of fund securities, including assets of the funds such as cash and term deposits as well as decisions regarding the execution of portfolio transactions of a fund, including the selection of market, broker and the negotiation of commissions.

In effecting these portfolio transactions, RBC GAM places brokerage business with numerous dealers and brokers on the basis of the best execution, which includes a number of considerations such as price, volume, speed and certainty of execution, and total transaction cost. RBC GAM uses the same criteria in selecting all of its dealers and brokers, regardless of whether the dealer or broker is an affiliate of RBC GAM. RBC GAM currently has in place brokerage arrangements with two affiliates, RBC DS and Commission Direct Inc. Each of RBC DS and Commission Direct Inc. may provide research goods and services, order execution goods and services and mixed-use goods and services in exchange for effecting brokerage transactions, which goods and services are more fully described below.

In certain circumstances, RBC GAM receives goods or services from dealers or brokers in exchange for directing brokerage transactions to such dealers or brokers. The types of goods and services for which RBC GAM may direct brokerage commissions are research goods and services (research goods and services) and order execution goods and services (order execution goods and services).

RBC GAM receives research goods and services, which include: (i) advice as to the value of securities and the advisability of effecting transactions in securities; and (ii) analyses and reports concerning securities, issuers, industries, portfolio strategy or economic or political factors and trends that may have an impact on the value of securities. Such goods and services may be provided by the executing dealer directly (known as proprietary research) or by a party other than the executing dealer (known as third party research). The research goods and services with which RBC GAM is provided in exchange for brokerage commissions include advice, analyses and reports that focus on, among other matters, specific stocks, sectors and economies.

RBC GAM may also receive order execution goods and services, such as data analysis, software applications and data feeds. These goods and services may be provided by the executing dealer directly or by a party other than the executing dealer.

The users of these research goods and services and order execution goods and services are RBC GAM's portfolio managers, analysts and traders.

In certain instances, RBC GAM may receive goods and services containing some elements that qualify as research goods and services and/or order execution goods and services and other elements that do not qualify as either of such permitted goods and services. These types of goods and services are considered to be mixed-use (mixed-use goods and services). If RBC GAM obtains mixed-use goods and services, RBC GAM only uses brokerage commissions to pay for the portion that would qualify as permitted goods and services that are used in its investment or trading decisions or in effecting securities transactions, each on behalf of the funds. The types of mixed-use goods and services that RBC GAM may receive include software applications and data analysis.

RBC GAM conducts extensive trade cost analysis to ensure that the funds and clients of RBC GAM receive a reasonable benefit considering the use of the research goods and services and order execution goods and services, as applicable, and the amount of brokerage commissions paid. Specifically, RBC GAM's investment management teams decide which dealers or brokers are allocated brokerage business based on their ability to provide best execution of trades, the competitiveness of the commission costs, and the range of services and quality of research received.

RBC GAM may use research goods and services and order execution goods and services to benefit the funds and clients of RBC GAM other than those whose trades generated the brokerage commission. However, RBC GAM has policies and procedures in place such that over a reasonable period of time, all clients, including the funds, receive fair and reasonable benefit in return for the commission generated.

For a list of any other dealer, broker or third party which provides research goods and services and/or order execution goods and services, at no cost, call us at 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French) or send an email to funds.investments@rbc.com (English) or funds.investissements@rbc.com (French).

General partner

RBC Corporate Class GP Inc. of Toronto, Ontario is the general partner of each fund pursuant to the Limited Partnership Agreement of the fund.

In connection with the formation of each fund, the general partner contributed $10 to the fund in exchange for one general partner unit of the fund. The general partner will be allocated 0.01% of the annual net income of each fund (up to a maximum of $3,000 per year), and 0.01% of any net loss of the fund, and will generally be entitled to a return of its capital of $10 in the fund upon dissolution of that fund.

The general partner may resign as general partner of a fund provided that a new general partner is appointed and 60 days' notice of the new general partner is given to unitholders of the fund. The Limited Partnership Agreement of a fund may be amended in the manner described under Description of units of the funds – Meeting of unitholders.

The name and municipality of residence, position and office held with the general partner and current principal occupation of each of the directors and executive officers of the general partner are as follows:

Custodian

RBC Dexia Investor Services Trust of Toronto, Ontario is the custodian of the assets of the funds pursuant to an amended master custodial agreement between RBC GAM, as manager of each fund, and RBC Dexia Investor Services Trust dated as of December 19, 2011 (the Master Custodial Agreement). RBC Dexia Investor Services Trust receives a fee from RBC GAM for the custodial services provided to the funds. Either party may terminate the Master Custodial Agreement by giving the other party 30 days' notice.

Auditor

The auditor of the funds is Deloitte & Touche LLP of Toronto, Ontario.

Registrar

Royal Bank, RBC Dexia Investor Services Trust and RBC GAM keep a record of who owns all fund units. The register of the funds is kept in Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Ontario and Vancouver, British Columbia.

Independent Review Committee

The Board of Governors acts as the independent review committee that each fund is required to have under Canadian securities laws. The Board of Governors reviews and provides input on conflict of interest matters in respect of RBC GAM and the funds. The Board of Governors also provides advice to RBC GAM on other issues relating to the management of the funds. See Corporate governance of the funds on page 20.

Damon G. Williams	Director and President, Institutional, RBC GAM	Vice President, Royal Bank

As disclosed in the table above, certain directors or officers of RBC GAM or the general partner may also be directors or officers of Royal Bank or RBC DS. RBC GAM has established appropriate policies and procedures to minimize the potential for conflicts between the interests of RBC GAM, the general partner and any affiliated entities. In particular, RBC GAM has policies and procedures which deal with the trading in common shares of Royal Bank and offerings underwritten by RBC DS and to ensure that any brokerage business allocated to RBC DS will be on the basis of best execution and will be on competitive terms and conditions. See Corporate governance of the funds – Board of Governors and Responsibility for operations of the funds – Brokerage arrangements. RBC GAM monitors the application of such policies and procedures to ensure their continuing effectiveness.

Corporate governance of the funds

RBC GAM has overall responsibility for management of the funds, including responsibility for the day-to-day management and administration of the funds.

The Board of Governors acts as the independent review committee that each fund is required to have under Canadian securities laws. See Board of Governors below.

Policies, procedures, practices and guidelines

As manager of, and portfolio advisor to, the funds, RBC GAM is responsible for the day-to-day management, administration and operation of the funds, and provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the funds.

RBC GAM has established appropriate policies, procedures, practices and guidelines to ensure the proper management of the funds, including as required by NI 81-107, policies and procedures relating to conflicts of interest. The systems used by RBC GAM in relation to the funds monitor and manage the business and sales practices, risk and internal conflicts of interest relating to the funds, while ensuring compliance with applicable regulatory, compliance and corporate requirements. RBC GAM personnel responsible for compliance, together with management of RBC GAM, ensure that these policies, procedures, practices and guidelines are communicated from time to time to all relevant persons and are updated as necessary (including the systems referred to above) to reflect changing circumstances. RBC GAM also monitors the application of all such policies, procedures, practices and guidelines to ensure their continuing effectiveness.

Compliance with the investment practices and investment restrictions mandated by securities legislation is monitored by RBC GAM on a regular basis. The investment practices and restrictions for the funds and guidelines for derivative use, securities lending transactions, repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements are outlined beginning on page 2.

RBC GAM has also developed a personal trading policy for employees (the Policy) which is designed to prevent potential, perceived or actual conflicts between the interests of RBC GAM and its staff and the interests of clients and the funds. Under the Policy, certain RBC GAM personnel are required to pre-clear certain personal securities transactions in order to ensure that those trades do not conflict with the best interests of the funds and have not been offered to the person because of the position they hold in RBC GAM. RBC GAM has also adopted the basic principles set out in the Code of Ethics on Personal Investing established by the Investment Funds Institute of Canada.

Board of Governors

The Board of Governors reviews and provides input on conflict of interest matters in respect of RBC GAM and the funds. The Board of Governors also provides advice to RBC GAM on other issues relating to the management of the funds.

In its role as the independent review committee of the funds, the Board of Governors will, no less frequently than annually, review and assess the adequacy and effectiveness of:

- › RBC GAM's policies and procedures relating to conflict of interest matters in respect of the funds;
- › any standing instructions it has provided to RBC GAM pertaining to conflict of interest matters in respect of the funds;
- › RBC GAM's and the funds' compliance with any conditions imposed by the Board of Governors in a recommendation or approval; and
- › any subcommittee to which the Board of Governors, in its role as independent review committee, has delegated any of its functions.

In addition, the Board of Governors will, no less frequently than annually, review and assess the independence of its members, the compensation of its members, its effectiveness and the contribution and effectiveness of its members. The Board of Governors will provide RBC GAM with a report of the results of such assessment.

The Board of Governors prepares an annual report that describes its activities as the independent review committee of the funds. For a copy of this report, at no cost, call us at 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French) or ask your dealer. You can also get a copy of this report on the RBC GAM website at www.rbcgam.com or by sending an email to funds.investments@rbc.com (English) or fonds.investissements@rbc.com (French).

This report and other information about the Board of Governors are also available at www.sedar.com.

The Board of Governors is composed of nine members and each is independent from RBC GAM, the funds and entities related to RBC GAM. Set forth below are the name, municipality of residence and principal occupation of each of the members of the Board of Governors:

Policies and procedures regarding proxy voting

As portfolio advisor for the funds, RBC GAM has responsibility for the investment management of the funds, including the exercise of voting rights attaching to securities held by the funds. In the discussion below, “fund” or “funds” may also refer to the reference fund to which a fund provides exposure.

Each fund has proxy voting policies and procedures that apply to securities held by the fund to which voting rights are attached. RBC GAM has established proxy voting policies, procedures and guidelines (the Proxy Voting Policy) for securities held by the funds to which voting rights are attached. Each fund’s proxy voting policy provides that the fund’s voting rights will be exercised in accordance with the best interests of the fund.

The Proxy Voting Policy sets out the guidelines and procedures that RBC GAM will follow to determine whether and how to vote on any matter for which a fund receives proxy materials. Issuers’ proxies most frequently contain proposals to elect corporate directors, to appoint external auditors and set their compensation, to adopt or amend management compensation plans, and to amend the capitalization of the company.

Pursuant to the Proxy Voting Policy, RBC GAM will generally cause the funds to vote on these matters as follows:

- (a) Boards of Directors – RBC GAM supports resolutions that promote the effectiveness of boards in acting in the best interests of shareholders. RBC GAM will generally cause a fund to vote in favour of the election of individual directors for boards having an independent chair and on which two-thirds of the directors are independent.
- (b) Auditors and Auditor Compensation – Where all members of an issuer’s audit committee are independent, RBC GAM will generally cause a fund to support the election of directors, the appointment of auditors and the approval of the recommended auditor compensation.

- (c) Management Compensation – The goal of RBC GAM is to support compensation arrangements that are tied to long-term corporate performance and shareholder value. These arrangements should induce management to purchase and hold equity in the company to better align management’s interests with those of shareholders. Stock option plans that are overly generous or excessively dilutive to other shareholders will not be supported.
- (d) Changes in Capitalization – RBC GAM recognizes the need for management of an issuer to have flexibility in the issue or buyback of shares to meet changing financial conditions. Changes in capitalization will generally be supported where a reasonable need for the change is demonstrated; however, changes resulting in excessive dilution of existing shareholder value will not be supported.

Other issues, including those business issues specific to the issuer or those raised by shareholders of the issuer, are addressed on a case-by-case basis with a focus on the potential impact of the vote on shareholder value.

RBC GAM has retained Institutional Shareholder Services Inc., a subsidiary of MSCI Inc., to provide administrative and proxy voting services to the funds. The Proxy Voting Policy includes procedures to ensure that voting rights are exercised in accordance with the funds’ instructions.

If the potential for a conflict of interest arises in connection with proxy voting, the Proxy Voting Policy provides for consideration of the issue by the Board of Governors of the funds and provision of its recommendation to RBC GAM.

The Proxy Voting Policy is available on request, at no cost, by calling 1-800-463-FUND (3863) (English) or 1-800-668-FOND (3663) (French) or by writing to RBC Global Asset Management Inc., 155 Wellington Street West, Suite 2200, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 3K7.

The proxy voting record for each fund for the most recent 12-month period ended June 30 of each year will be available at no cost to any unitholder of the fund upon request at any time after August 31 of that year. The proxy voting record for each fund will also be available from the RBC GAM website at www.rbcgam.com.

Excessive trading

Buying, redeeming or switching units of a mutual fund within 30 business days after they were purchased, which is referred to as excessive or short-term trading, may have an adverse effect on other investors in the mutual fund because it can increase trading costs to the mutual fund to the extent the mutual fund purchases and sells portfolio securities in response to each redemption request. An investor who engages in short-term trading also may participate in any appreciation in the net asset value of the mutual fund during the short period that the investor was invested in the mutual fund, which reduces the amount of the appreciation that is experienced by other, longer term investors in the mutual fund. Due to the nature of the assets in which the funds invest, we believe that investors in the funds are not exposed to the adverse effects of short-term trading described above and therefore we do not restrict short-term trading in the funds.

Income tax considerations

This section describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations applicable to the funds and to investors in a fund who are not “financial institutions” for purposes of the mark-to-market rules contained in the Income Tax Act (Canada) and who, for purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada), are residents of Canada, deal with the fund at arm’s-length and hold units of the fund as capital property.

The summary takes into account the current provisions of the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the regulations thereunder, as well as all publicly announced proposed amendments to the Income Tax Act (Canada) and regulations. It also takes into account the published administrative policies and assessing practices of the Canada Revenue Agency.

The summary is not intended to be exhaustive. It does not address provincial, territorial or foreign tax considerations. This summary does not constitute legal or tax advice to any particular purchaser or to any particular holder of units of a fund. Investors should consult their own tax advisors for advice with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in their particular circumstances.

A fund will not be subject to income tax on its income or gains. Instead, the income or loss, and capital gains and capital losses, of a fund will be computed as if the fund were a separate person and each investor in the fund will be treated as earning its share of the income, loss, capital gains and capital losses of the fund for a fiscal year of the fund that ends in (or coincidentally with) the investor's taxation year, whether or not the investor receives any distributions from the fund. Accordingly, an investor will be treated as earning its share of any dividends from taxable Canadian corporations, capital gains or losses, and foreign source income on which foreign tax has been paid, as well as any other types of income or losses realized by the fund. An investor that is a corporation that holds a significant interest (generally, more than a 10 per cent interest) in a fund and that has a taxation year-end other than March 31 should consult its own tax advisor regarding recent proposed changes to the Income Tax Act (Canada).

A fund will not realize any income, gain or loss as a result of entering into a forward contract pursuant to which it agrees to sell Canadian securities to a counterparty. The fund may realize a gain or loss on the sale of Canadian securities under the forward contract. An investor may be entitled to make an election under the Income Tax Act (Canada) to deem gains and losses on all Canadian securities held by the investor, including the investor's share of gains and losses on Canadian securities held by a fund and sold to a counterparty under a forward contract, to be capital gains and capital losses. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding whether they can and should make this election in their circumstances. If an investor is entitled to make, and does make, an election under the Income Tax Act (Canada) to treat all gains and losses on the disposition of Canadian securities as capital gains or capital losses, it is expected that the investor's share of such gains or losses will be treated as capital gains or capital losses for tax purposes. If obligations under a forward contract are settled by making cash payments (as opposed to by the delivery of securities), a payment received or made by a fund may be a receipt or outlay on income account, as applicable, and an investor will be allocated its share of any net income or loss.

The ability of an investor to deduct losses, if any, incurred by a fund will be subject to the "at-risk" rules in the Income Tax Act (Canada). If an investor's share of a loss of the fund for a fiscal year exceeds the investor's "at-risk amount" as defined in the Income Tax Act (Canada) in respect of the fund at the end of that fiscal year, such share of the loss cannot be deducted by the investor in computing its income, but may be carried forward and deducted in a future year to the extent that the investor has an "at-risk" amount at the relevant time in such future year.

In general, an investor's adjusted cost base in its units in a fund at any time will be equal to the cost of the units to the investor (including any units purchased through the reinvestment of distributions from the fund), plus the investor's share of income and capital gains of the fund and less the investor's share of losses and capital losses of the fund for fiscal years ending before that time, and less distributions, if any, received by the investor from the fund before that time. If an investor's adjusted cost base of its units in the fund is a negative amount at the end of a fiscal year of the fund, the investor would be deemed to realize a capital gain equal to such amount and the adjusted cost base of such units would then be deemed to be nil. If at the end of a later fiscal year, the adjusted cost base of the investor's units is a positive amount, the investor may make a tax election to be deemed to realize a capital loss subject to and in accordance with the rules in the Income Tax Act (Canada).

Upon the actual or deemed disposition of a unit of a fund, including the redemption of a unit by a fund and a switch of units of a fund into another mutual fund, a capital gain (or a capital loss) will generally be realized to the extent that the proceeds of disposition of the units exceed (or are exceeded by) the aggregate of the adjusted cost base to the holder of such units and the costs of disposition. One-half of a capital gain realized on the disposition will be included in income as a taxable capital gain. One-half of any capital loss realized will be deducted against any taxable capital gains, subject to and in accordance with the detailed rules of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

If an investor realizes a capital loss on the sale of units and the investor or a person affiliated with the investor has acquired units of the fund within 30 days before or after such sale, the loss may not be deductible by the investor against capital gains, but may instead, in the case of an individual, be added to the adjusted cost base of the newly acquired units, and in the case of a corporation, partnership or trust, be suspended until the investor has disposed of all of its units of the fund.

Under proposed new tax rules, if an investor disposes of all of its units during a fiscal year of the fund, the investor may be treated as if it continued to hold units of the fund until the end of the fiscal year for certain tax purposes, including recognition of the investor's share of income and losses of the fund and the calculation of the adjusted cost base of the investor's units.

Individuals may be subject to an alternative minimum tax which may apply in respect of amounts treated as eligible dividends and capital gains.

Tax forms

Unitholders will receive an annual tax form relating to their share of income, loss, capital gains and capital losses realized by each fund in which they hold units to enable them to complete their income tax returns. Unitholders should keep records of the cost of units acquired, amounts allocated by the fund and any distributions so that they can calculate any capital gain or loss on the redemption or other disposition of their units.

Eligibility for registered plans and TFSAs

The units of the funds will not be qualified investments for trusts governed by registered plans or TFSAs.

Remuneration of directors and officers

The funds do not have directors or officers. The general partner will be allocated 0.01% of the net income of each fund (up to a maximum of $3,000 per year) and 0.01% of the net loss of each fund. RBC GAM, in its capacity as manager of the funds, is entitled to receive a management fee set out in the simplified prospectus of the funds.

Material contracts

The material contracts of each fund are listed below:

- (a) the Limited Partnership Agreement of the fund;
- (b) the Management Agreement; and
- (c) the Master Custodial Agreement.

Each of the foregoing is described under the heading Responsibility for operations of the funds on page 14.

Copies of the material contracts listed above may be examined by prospective or existing unitholders at the principal office of the funds during ordinary business hours.
