What does the fund invest in?

The fund invests primarily in a portfolio of investment grade fixed-income securities issued by Canadian corporations with an effective maturity in 2030 to track the FTSE Canada 2030 Maturity Corporate Bond Index[†], directly or indirectly by investing in units of the RBC Target 2030 Canadian Corporate Bond Index ETF, which tracks the same index. In the year the target date of the fund is reached, it is expected that all the assets of the fund will transition to cash and cash equivalents and/or invest in units of the RBC Canadian Money Market Fund.

It is anticipated that the fund will terminate no later than one year after the end of its target year.

How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

RBC GAM has rated the volatility of this fund as low.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the sections entitled "Investment risk classification methodology" and "What are the risks of investing in the fund?" in the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how Series F units of the fund have performed since the date they were created. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns

This section tells you how Series F units of the fund have performed in past calendar years. However, this information is not available because the series of the fund has not yet completed a calendar year.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This section shows the best and worst returns for Series F units of the fund in a 3-month period. However, this information is not available because the series of the fund has not yet completed a calendar year.

Average return

This section shows the value and annual compounded rate of return of a hypothetical $1,000 investment in Series F units of the fund. However, this information is not available because the series of the fund has not yet completed 12 consecutive months.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who:

- are looking for regular income
- want to invest in Canadian corporate bonds with a target maturity date
- can accept fluctuations in the value of their investment

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to include in your taxable income any money you make on a fund held outside a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account. How much income tax you pay depends on the tax laws that apply to you and the fund.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series F units of the fund. The fees and expenses - including any commissions - can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

Series F units are no load. That means you pay no sales charges if you buy, redeem or switch your units.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns.

The fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, operating expenses (the administration fee, other fund costs and taxes) and trading costs. The series' annual management fee is 0.20% and administration fee is 0.05% of the series value. Because the series of this fund is new, its operating expenses and trading costs are not yet available.

More about the trailing commission

Series F has no trailing commissions.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell, switch or reclassify units of the fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	2% of the value of units you sell or switch within 7 days of buying them. This fee goes to the fund.
Registered tax plan fee	Fees may be payable to your representative or to his or her firm if you transfer an investment within a registered plan to another financial institution. None of these fees are paid to us.
Advice and/or other services fee	Series F units are available to investors who have fee-based or order execution only accounts with their representative firms. Investors may pay a fee directly to their representative firm for the purchase and sale of units, for investment advice and/or for other services.

What if I change my mind?

Under securities law in some provinces and territories, you have the right to:

- withdraw from an agreement to buy mutual funds within two business days after you receive a simplified prospectus or Fund Facts document, or
- cancel your purchase within 48 hours after you receive confirmation of the purchase.

In some provinces and territories, you also have the right to cancel a purchase, or in some jurisdictions, claim damages, if the simplified prospectus, Fund Facts document or financial statements contain a misrepresentation. You must act within the time limit set by the securities law in your province or territory.

For more information, see the securities law of your province or territory or ask a lawyer.
