

RBC Retirement 2030 Portfolio

Investment Objective

This fund is an asset allocation fund designed to meet the needs of investors who are saving money towards their retirement, which they expect will commence around 2030. The fund invests primarily in equities until 10 years prior to retirement, at which point it gradually shifts its asset mix from an emphasis on equity funds to an emphasis on fixed income funds. Over the life of the fund, its portfolio will shift from a focus on funds with growth potential to a focus on funds that will preserve capital.

Quarterly Commentary as at June 30, 2018

The second quarter of 2018 was marked by escalating trade tensions between the U.S. and much of the world, as President Trump made good on his promise to institute billions of dollars in tariffs. Against this backdrop, U.S. economic growth accelerated, while the expansion appeared to slow in Europe and emerging markets.

Global government bonds were mixed, with U.S. Treasuries finishing the period essentially flat while German and Japanese bonds rose. Canadian bonds posted modest gains during the period, as the trade conflict and slowing global growth capped yields on Government of Canada debt. Returns in the fixed-income segment of the portfolio were held back by the RBC Global High Yield Bond Fund and the BlueBay Global Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund (Canada).

Global equity markets continued to fluctuate in the quarter as the trade conflict moved beyond the U.S. and China to engulf Europe and Canada. Chinese equity prices slumped while Canadian stocks rebounded, supported by rising oil prices. Returns were bolstered by the RBC Global Equity Focus Fund and the Phillips, Hager & North Canadian Equity Underlying Fund.

Economic growth slowed in the first half of 2018, but remains at its most solid since the financial crisis amid U.S. fiscal stimulus and business and consumer optimism. The portfolio manager expects continued expansion, encouraging central banks to nudge rates higher and acting as a headwind for bond returns. Corporate earnings continue to rise steadily, which bodes well for stocks.
