Quarterly Commentary as at March 31, 2017

The RBC Emerging Markets Multi-Strategy Equity Fund was launched on September 26, 2016. Investment performance is not provided for a fund that has been available for less than one year.

Emerging-market stocks have been outperforming developed-market equities so far in 2017, for two reasons. First, the recent decline in the U.S. dollar has boosted the attractiveness of emerging-market assets and, second, investors are less optimistic that the Trump administration will be able to impose protectionist trade policies aimed at emerging markets. Looking ahead over the medium term, the portfolio manager believes that emerging-market equities are still undervalued relative to developed markets after years of underperformance. Also, economic growth and earnings are gaining momentum relative to developed markets, and these developments are often positive for the performance of emerging-market equities.
