Quarterly Commentary as at December 31, 2011

In the 4th quarter, the RBC Global Balanced Fund (Series A) was up 2.5%, versus 3.6% for its benchmark.

Stocks recovered this quarter, with the strength most evident in the United States. The stimulant for this advance was a decompression of the extreme pessimism witnessed from late summer into fall. The gains were fundamentally driven by prospects for the European crisis resolution, a more resilient than expected U.S. economy, and a fairly stable corporate outlook. Fund performance relative to its benchmark was hurt from the underperformance of the Fund's U.S. stocks. Also, overweight position in equities was beneficial as equities outperformed fixed income in the final quarter.

Global bond markets, while underperforming stocks in Q4, still showed a positive return of 1.0%. Considering the rally in stocks and the huge drop in yields for the year-to-date, the higher grade sovereign bond markets were more buoyant than expected. Inflation expectations remain low and central banks are on hold, thus we are hesitant to project anything more than a moderate global economic environment.

After factoring a global recession into last year's lows in stock prices, a more favorable backdrop has indeed materialized. Strains on the global economy are abnormally high, as much of the developed world continues to struggle with the deleveraging process. Yet, corporations still remain in relatively profitable and fairly priced which should provide underlying support. The next year should provide plenty of time for two-sided trade in stocks, as the markets and economies continue to transition. Fixed income markets while extended, should continue to behave with shorter-term yield anchored at extremely low levels.

Quartile rankings are determined by Morningstar Research Inc., an independent research firm. Quartile rankings are comparisons of the performance of a fund to other funds in a particular category and are subject to change monthly. The quartiles divide the data into four equal segments expressed in terms of rank (1, 2, 3 or 4). This is the Morningstar quartile ranking of Series A units of the Fund as of December 31, 2011.

Morningstar ratings are overall ratings reflecting risk adjusted performance as December 31, 2011. The ratings are subject to change every month. The ratings are calculated for funds with a minimum of 3 years of performance, calculated from the funds' 1 and 3 year average annual returns measured against a 91-day Treasury Bill return with appropriate fee adjustments. The top 10% of the funds in a category receive 5 stars (high); if the funds fall in the next 22.5%, they receive 4 stars (above average); a place in the middle 35% earns a fund 3 stars (neutral or average); those in the next 22.5% receive 2 stars (below average); and the lowest 10% get 1 star (low). Ratings are just one factor to consider when investing. For more information, please see www.morningstar.ca.
