Quarterly Commentary as at June 30, 2017

The S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index posted a negative quarterly return of -1.6% despite gains in 7 of 11 sectors during Q2. Industrials and Consumer Staples sectors performed best. Energy and Materials were the worst performing sectors and accounted for most underperformance.

The Fund generated positive returns across most sectors with only Financials and Energy sectors detracting from performance. Our position in short-term fixed income marginally detracted as short-term interest rates increased in Q2.

The largest contributions to returns came from security selection in Industrials, Real Estate, and Consumer Discretionary sectors. Top contributors included Dream Global REIT, Veresen, and Air Canada, while holdings in ShawCor, Industrial Alliance, and CIBC were the biggest detractors.

Allocation to equities during Q2 decreased marginally to 74% from 76% at the end of Q1. The overall number of equity holdings in the Fund remained relatively unchanged from Q1, while several holdings were replaced, resulting in shifts in the Fund's sector positioning.

A number of companies in the Financials sector were sold, such as Bank of Montreal, CIBC, and Industrial Alliance, reducing exposure to this sector to 10% at quarter end. All three companies were profitable holdings for the Fund but breached their exit triggers in May. We also exited a number of energy positions such as Freehold Royalties and Enerflex, marginally reducing exposure to this sector.

A number of new positions during Q2 were added including Magna and Gildan in the Consumer Discretionary sector, and TransAlta and Hydro One in Utilities, increasing overall exposure to both sectors.

At the end of Q2, the Fund had largest weights in Real Estate, Utilities, and Financials, with approximately 26% of the Fund invested in cash and short-term fixed income.
