Quarterly Commentary as at September 30, 2017

The Treasury curve had little change over Q3. The 2-year Treasury yield ended the quarter at 1.48%, while the 10-year increased to 2.33%. The spread between 2-year and 10-year rates decreased by 7 basis points (bps), leading to a minimally flatter curve.

Credit spreads of investment grade corporate bonds tightened by 8 bps during Q3. Overall, lower quality BBB bonds continued to outperform higher quality (A-AAA) bonds and longer maturity bonds outperformed short and intermediate bonds. Basic materials and energy produced the highest excess return over Treasuries. Meanwhile, capital goods and communications were the bottom performers based on excess return.

Overall the Fund benefited from tightening credit spreads. The Fund's overweight to BBB rated securities provided positive performance relative to the benchmark while the Fund's underweight, and under risk, positioning in basic materials detracted from performance. Security selection continues to be a primary driver of relative performance. The Fund seeks to add value by focusing on stable to improving credit profiles and selectively participating in new issues that provide opportunity for significant spread compression relative to the benchmark.

We continue to favor large companies with stable to improving credit profiles. We avoid companies that are likely to finance large acquisitions with debt or are likely to engage in shareholder friendly activity at the expense of bondholders.

Sector over-weights are in banking, utilities and communications. We prefer companies that focus on the U.S. market, generate consistent cash flow and are in the process of reducing debt. The regulatory environment in banking and utilities has also had a favorable impact on the credit profile of these companies.

Interest rate positioning relative to the benchmark continues to be largely neutral. Our philosophy is grounded in a tight risk management focus which reinforces our belief that interest rate calls are difficult to time and expensive when wrong.
