Quarterly Commentary as at March 31, 2018

Emerging markets continued to outperform developed markets in the quarter. January's strong performance, supported by gains in the Information Technology sector, was reversed in February after a global sell-off in equities amid tensions around trade protectionism and a possible U.S.-China trade war.

At the country level, Brazil and Peru were the best-performing markets, both buoyed by a positive political environment while the Philippines, Poland and India were the worst-performing markets. At the sector level, Energy and Health Care were the best-performing sectors while Consumer Discretionary and Telecommunication Services were the worst.

At the sector level, stock selection in Financials was the largest contributor, particularly our holding in AEON Thana Sinsap (Thailand) PCL, which returned 80.1% in U.S.-dollar terms during the quarter. At the country level, stock selection in India and Thailand was strong while stock selection in China and the Philippines detracted marginally from returns.

AEON Thana was the biggest contributor to relative returns. In addition to the company's strong results, the Thai regulator recently announced lending restrictions which are expected to positively impact the company relative to its peer group. Indian IT services company, Cyient Ltd., performed well as it reiterated its strong outlook for 2018, including double-digit revenue growth in the services segment, 50 basis points in margin expansion and double-digit earnings growth.

Indian conglomerate, Godrej Industries Ltd., was the biggest detractor to returns over the period. The company has been under pressure due to some weakness in its consumer segment as well as general weakness in the Indian mid-cap equity space. India-based holding and investment company, Bajaj Holdings & Investment Ltd., also came under pressure as the auto business suffered from weaker margins due to commodity price pressure.
