Quarterly Commentary as at March 31, 2018

PH&N Dividend Income Fund's performance in the first quarter was driven by holdings such as Jamieson Wellness Inc., Pure Industrial Real Estate Trust and Toronto-Dominion Bank.

Jamieson Wellness continued its strong performance last quarter. The company has been making progress in licensing some of its products under the new Chinese regulatory regime to sell in that market. Even a modest market-share gain in the medium to long term in the Chinese market could be meaningful. We remain confident in the company's prospects to outgrow the market due to new product launches and increased global market penetration, given its broad range of products for all age groups and lifestyles.

Pure Industrial owns and manages over 17 million square feet of industrial space across Canada and the United States, with a focus on warehouse and distribution space. In January 2018, the company announced that it entered an agreement to be acquired by Blackstone Property Partners at an attractive premium to its net asset value.

Toronto-Dominion Bank had a solid quarter with strong results in U.S Retail and Canadian Personal & Commercial Banking. U.S Retail saw solid momentum, bolstered by higher interest rates, strong operating leverage and U.S. tax reform. Coupled with the strength of TD Ameritrade, the U.S. component of the pie continues to grow. The company's annual dividend increase was larger than expected, underscoring management's view of continued strong growth for the balance of the year. Finally, the strong capital position should provide deployment flexibility.

During the quarter, we raised our weight positioning in Canadian Pacific Railway, Neo Performance Materials Inc. and SNC Lavalin Group Inc. We also reduced our weighting in Manulife Financial Corp., Stantec Inc. and WPT Industrial Real Estate Investment Trust. Finally, we sold our position in Pure Industrial as a result of Blackstone's takeover bid, which drove up Pure Industrial's stock price.
