

PH&N Overseas Equity Fund

Investment Objective

To achieve long-term capital growth by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of common stocks in companies in the world's largest industrialized countries outside North America, including countries in Europe and the Far East, including Japan and Australia. This Fund is different from the Global Equity Fund because the primary focus of its investments does not include companies in the United States.

Quarterly Commentary as at September 30, 2017

The PH&N Overseas Equity Fund outperformed the Fund's benchmark in the third quarter due to stock selection.

Nidec Corp., a Japanese manufacturer of precision motors, was the Fund's largest contributor during the quarter. The company reported strong numbers in the first quarter and is poised to benefit from the continued electrification of cars and developments in robotic applications. Deutsche Post AG performed strongly after impressive second quarter profits driven by its growing express delivery business in Europe. ASML performed well as it benefited from orders for its new lithography machines.

U.K.-listed global hotel franchise operator, Intercontinental Hotels Group PLC, was the Fund's largest detractor on slightly weaker first half 2017 results. Irish-listed gaming company, Paddy Power, suffered as it continues to integrate its recent acquisition, Betfair. Budget airline, Ryanair Ltd., detracted after the European Court of Justice passed a ruling that could increase the company's costs. Compensation claims for flight cancellations caused by a pilots' strike will also damage profits. Swiss pharmaceutical company, F. Hoffmann-La Roche AG, and Tokyo Gas Co. Ltd. also weakened the Fund's performance.

All major markets posted strong returns in their respective local currencies. The U.S. led the way, driven by strong macro and company fundamentals, while the U.K. lagged amid continued uncertainty around Brexit. The pound sterling appreciated over the period as inflation rose and the Bank of England hinted at November tightening.

As always, the RBC Global Equity team remains committed to the discovery of companies that we deem to be future success stories. We are constantly searching for compelling long-term opportunities at the right valuations while avoiding businesses that are overvalued or optically cheap but fundamentally flawed.
