Quarterly Commentary as at March 31, 2018

The S&P/TSX Composite Index struggled in the most recent quarter and was the only major equity market to post a negative return over the period in Canadian-dollar terms. The Index returned -4.5% in Q1 and a modest 1.7% for the last 12 months. Over the quarter, a strong contribution from Information Technology (IT) was offset by negative performance in almost every other sector, particularly a meaningfully negative return from Energy, which comprises the Index's second-largest weight. Canada failed to benefit from the most recent rise in oil prices as the price for oil received by Canadian producers has suffered amid transportation bottlenecks.

Top contributors at the security level included real estate investment trusts (REITs), Pure Industrial and Dream Global, as well as Morneau Shepell while our holdings in TransCanada Corp., Alimentation Couche-Tard Inc. and Westshore Terminals were the largest detractors.

We exited a number of positions in the Financials sector, such as Industrial Alliance, Power Corp. of Canada and Intact Financial Corp., reducing overall exposure to the sector by 4.6%. We also sold several positions in the Utilities sector (e.g., Emera Inc., Fortis Inc. and Hydro One Ltd.), lowering our weight in this sector as well.

Elsewhere in the portfolio, we sold several holdings in the Industrials sector, notably Stantec Inc., WestJet Airlines Ltd. and Maxar Technologies Ltd., but added a few new positions, marginally increasing overall exposure to this sector. We also added new positions in IT (e.g., Kinaxis Inc. and OpenText Corp.) – the only other sector outside Industrials with an increase in exposure relative to the last quarter.

At the end of Q1, the Fund's largest weights were in the Financials, Real Estate and Industrials sectors. The Fund's position in cash and short-term fixed income increased from 26% to 42%.
