MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide regular income with a potential for modest capital appreciation by investing primarily in units of other funds managed by RBC GAM or an affiliate of RBC GAM (called the “underlying funds”), emphasizing funds that invest in fixed-income securities.

To achieve the Fund’s objectives, the Fund selects underlying funds that primarily invest in fixed-income securities to construct a portfolio of fixed-income securities diversified by sector, geography, credit quality, duration, currency and other relevant factors, and which may invest in fixed-income securities rated below investment grade, such as high-yield corporate bonds and certain emerging-market sovereign bonds, with the allocation to these issues typically ranging between 10% and 20%.

The portfolio manager allocates and rebalances the Fund’s assets among the underlying funds based on the portfolio manager’s assessment of the fixed-income markets and the underlying funds’ ability to help the Fund meet its stated investment objectives.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value fell to $2.8 billion as of December 31, 2022, from $3.3 billion at the end of 2021. The decrease was due to a combination of net redemptions and investment losses.

Over the past year, the Fund’s Series F units lost 9.0%, which outperformed the 11.7% decline in the benchmark. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

In January 2022, interest rates were near record lows and monetary stimulus was unprecedented, helping to lift U.S. stocks to record levels as much of the Western world tried to move on from the pandemic. But Russia’s invasion of Ukraine in February helped propel rapidly rising inflation to its highest level in four decades. The response to inflation – a rapid rise in global interest rates – led to the worst year for a U.S. balanced portfolio since 1937 and marked the first time since at least 1872 that both U.S. stocks and U.S. bonds had double-digit declines. Meanwhile, Chinese President Xi’s appointment to an unprecedented third term made him the country’s most powerful political leader since the 1970s, amplifying geopolitical tensions. Toward the end of 2022, China ended strict COVID lockdowns and mass testing, risking effects that could interfere with its economy and dent global economic growth.

Canadian government bonds posted the worst returns since 1980, as central banks in North America and Europe aggressively raised short-term interest rates to fight inflation running at its highest level since the 1980s. In 2022 alone, the Bank of Canada (the “BOC”) and the U.S. Federal Reserve (the “Fed”) raised short-term interest rates seven times, lifting the BOC’s benchmark rate to 4.25% from 0.25% and the Fed’s to a range of 4.25% to 4.50% from near zero.

To stem inflation, the central banks ended bond purchases that had helped to hold down longer-term interest rates and started selling bonds. By year-end, economic growth and inflation showed signs of falling, although both central banks indicated that interest rates would keep rising until inflation was clearly weakening. Yields on short-maturity bonds surged more than those on long-maturity securities, reflecting expectations that higher rates would hinder economic growth. Government of Canada bonds outperformed their U.S. counterparts, driven by investors’ views that the BOC would end rate hikes earlier.

The Fund’s returns were negatively affected by holdings in the RBC Global Corporate Bond Fund, the RBC Global Bond Fund and the RBC Bond Fund.

Recent Developments

The portfolio manager expects the 2022 rate hikes to start holding back economic growth significantly in 2023, raising the likelihood that Canada, the U.S. and Europe will fall into recession. A recession marked by rising unemployment would relieve pressure on central bankers to continue hiking interest rates and would indicate, at a minimum, that an end to the tightening cycle is coming. The portfolio manager stands ready to accumulate attractively priced assets in the event of further declines in bond prices.

Effective September 20, 2022, Brenda Eaton was appointed as Vice Chair of the Independent Review Committee (the “IRC”) following the death of Paul K. Bates, who had served as a dedicated member of the IRC since December 2014. Effective December 31, 2022, Charles F. Macfarlane stepped down as a member of the IRC, and effective January 1, 2023, Suromitra Sanatani was appointed as Chair of the IRC.

Related-Party Transactions

RBC GAM is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services. The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to RBC GAM, which, in turn, pays certain operating expenses of the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of units of the Fund. RBC GAM, as trustee, earns a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when unitholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

Distributors

Registrars

RBC GAM, RBC Investor Services Trust ("RBC IS") or Royal Bank (or a combination thereof) are the registrars of the Fund and keep records of who owns units of the Fund. The registrars earn a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Custodian

RBC IS is the custodian and holds the assets of the Fund. RBC IS earns a fee as the custodian, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Securities Lending Agent

To the extent the Fund may engage in securities lending transactions, RBC IS may act as the Fund's securities lending agent. Any revenue earned on such securities lending is split between the Fund and the securities lending agent.

Pursuant to applicable securities legislation, the Fund relied on the standing instructions from the Independent Review Committee with respect to one or more of the following transactions:

Related-Party Trading Activities

- (a) trades in securities of Royal Bank;

RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Inter-Fund Trading is in the best interests of each Fund.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

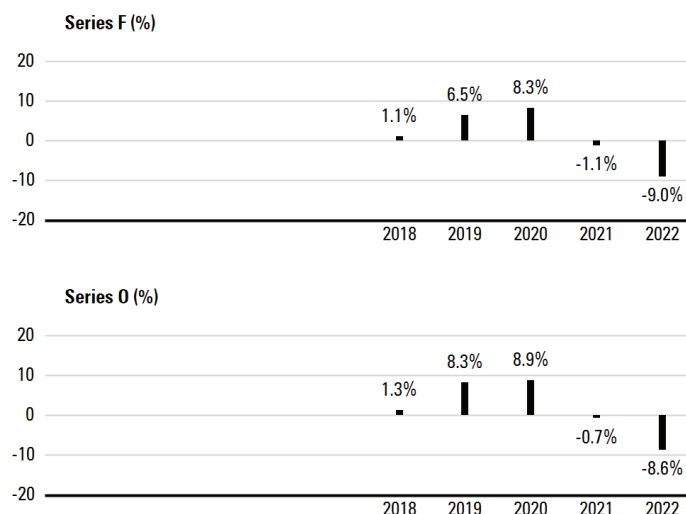

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.
