MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to achieve a balance of income and long-term capital growth relative to its target retirement date of 2015 by investing primarily in investment funds that hold equity, fixed income, income trust and money market securities and exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), or by investing directly in such securities.

The Fund invests primarily in underlying funds. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment strategies by investing in two broad asset classes: equities and fixed income, either directly or indirectly through underlying funds and Canadian or U.S. ETFs. ETFs purchased by the Fund will initially be limited to those that track the investment performance of broad based real estate investment trust indices but may include other ETFs where permitted by applicable securities laws. At all times, the Fund will use a dynamic asset mix or glide path that adjusts the asset mix of the Fund on a quarterly basis relative to its target date.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value rose to $10 million as of December 31, 2020, from $9 million at the end of 2019. The increase was due to investment returns, partially offset by net redemptions.

Over the past year, the Fund’s Series O units gained 8.5%. The broad-based index 1 rose 8.7% and the broad-based index 2 rose 5.6%. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of expenses, while broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Financial markets and global economic activity in 2020 were overshadowed by the emergence of COVID-19 in the first quarter of the year. Economic activity collapsed in March after the spread of the virus from China to the rest of the world led to government-mandated lockdowns and quarantines, particularly in developed markets. In November, word that there would be at least two highly effective COVID-19 vaccines bolstered consumers and investors, and by the end of the year inoculations were underway in North America, Europe and Asia.

Government bonds posted solid gains in 2020, as fear of the pandemic’s impact on the economy prompted investors to gravitate to the safety of fixed-income investments issued by sovereign governments, especially in the first half of the year. Bond yields were already relatively low in late February, when it became clear that the spread of the virus might lead to disruptions. The U.S. and Canada then joined Japan and Germany as countries where government-bond yields were near zero after major central banks steadied financial markets with interest-rate cuts and trillions of dollars in new asset purchases. By the end of 2020, government-bond yields had risen somewhat given optimism about COVID-19 vaccines, and non-government bonds generally finished 2020 with healthy gains as growth was more robust than was expected early in the crisis. Canadian fixed-income returns were among the best in developed markets. Returns in the fixed-income segment of the portfolio were boosted by the Phillips, Hager & North Bond Fund and the Phillips, Hager & North Inflation-Linked Bond Fund.

Global equity markets rebounded from pandemic-related losses in early 2020 to finish the year with gains that came mostly in the last few months. Stocks climbed steadily during the second half of 2020, extending a recovery from the significant losses recorded in February and March. Stocks were buoyed by central banks’ continued efforts to prop up financial markets and by a global economy faring much better than initially expected given widespread lockdowns and work-from-home measures. In the fourth quarter, vaccine approvals amplified the sense of optimism. Emerging-market stocks outperformed developed markets, and major U.S. markets outperformed other developed markets given strong returns from large technology companies. Returns were bolstered by the Phillips, Hager & North Canadian Equity Underlying Fund and the Phillips, Hager & North Conservative Equity Income Fund.

Recent Developments

The pandemic remains the key challenge for economies in the New Year, with case counts and fatalities reaching near-record levels. Tighter restrictions to combat the virus may lead to some economic slippage in early 2021, but there are reasons to be optimistic. The economic recovery has been exceeding expectations, vaccine developments are promising and markets have responded positively to the outcome of the U.S. presidential election. Although the economy may encounter hurdles in the very near term, the portfolio manager’s economic-growth forecasts for 2021 have featured more upgrades than downgrades and they are now modestly above the consensus.

Looking beyond the crisis, the portfolio manager’s longer-term view is that stocks will outperform bonds, and that the current low yields on government bonds will not provide the income or risk-diversifying properties of the past 40 years.

Related-Party Transactions

Manager and Portfolio Manager

RBC GAM is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank and is the manager and principal portfolio manager of the Fund. RBC GAM is responsible for the Fund's day-to-day operations, provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund and appoints distributors for the Fund. RBC GAM is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services. The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to RBC GAM, which, in turn, pays certain operating expenses of the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of units of the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when unitholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

Distributors

Registrars

RBC GAM, RBC Investor Services Trust ("RBC IS") or Royal Bank (or a combination thereof) are the registrars of the Fund and keep records of who owns units of the Fund. The registrars earn a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Trustee and Custodian

RBC IS is the trustee and holds title to the Fund's property on behalf of unitholders. RBC IS is the custodian of the Fund and holds the assets of the Fund.

RBC IS earns a fee as the trustee and custodian, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Securities Lending Agent

To the extent the Fund may engage in securities lending transactions, RBC IS may act as the Fund's securities lending agent. Any revenue earned on such securities lending is split between the Fund and the securities lending agent.

Pursuant to applicable securities legislation, the Fund relied on the standing instructions from the Independent Review Committee with respect to one or more of the following transactions:

Related-Party Trading Activities

- (a) trades in securities of Royal Bank;

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Inter-Fund Trading is in the best interests of each Fund.

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

⁴ From August 16, 2018.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.
