MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of U.S. companies, providing broad exposure to economic growth through the U.S. stock market.

The Fund diversifies across industries and selects companies with strong management, focused business models and the potential for growth in earnings and cash flow.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund's overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value rose to $2.8 billion as of December 31, 2020, from $2.2 billion at the end of 2019. The increase was due to a combination of net inflows and investment returns.

Over the past year, the Fund's Series A units gained 14.5%, which underperformed the 16.1% rise in the benchmark. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

It was a remarkable year for the U.S. stock market.

The S&P 500 Index began the year strongly and reached an all-time high in February. However, this broad measure of U.S. stock performance experienced the fastest decline in its history in February and March, falling by just over a third in less than a month as the spread of COVID-19 brought the economy to a standstill. U.S. stocks then rebounded strongly after governments around the world launched substantial monetary and fiscal stimulus. The U.S. Federal Reserve, for example, dropped interest rates near zero and expanded the scale of existing bond purchases to hold down longer-term rates. By early September, the S&P 500 was again reaching all-time highs on better-than-expected economic growth, and the index continued to surge in November after what was perceived as a market-friendly outcome in the U.S. elections and news that at least two vaccines had been approved to combat COVID-19.

The Fund's relative performance was aided by asset allocation in the Financials, Energy and Industrials sectors. In the Industrials sector, an above-benchmark position in Parker-Hannifin contributed to returns as the maker of measurement instruments surged on perceptions that it would benefit from a manufacturing rebound when the economy returned to something resembling normal. An above-benchmark position in Morgan Stanley also aided performance given the economic optimism. In November, the Financials and Industrials sectors recorded their strongest monthly returns since 2009 after news that clinical trials had shown several COVID-19 vaccines to be effective.

The Fund's underweight allocation to the top-performing Information Technology sector had a negative impact on relative returns. An overweight position in ConocoPhillips held back returns as the Energy-sector company faced pressure early in the year when oil demand plummeted and global oil prices fell to their lowest levels since 2003. An overweight position in Citigroup also held back returns as the bank was hurt by rising loan losses and a government order to improve risk management, data governance and internal controls.

Recent Developments

Investors seem to be expecting a quick and successful roll-out of two COVID-19 vaccines in 2021, for the Biden administration to get another COVID-19 relief bill passed shortly after the inauguration on January 20, and for economic activity and earnings to exceed 2019 levels by the end of 2021. While this scenario is possible, the portfolio manager acknowledges that strong equity-market gains may already reflect much of the impact of these developments. The portfolio manager's view, therefore, is that earnings will have to continue exceeding expectations to keep the stock market moving higher.

The U.S. economy could experience solid growth beginning in the second quarter of this year in the event that vaccination programs run smoothly, COVID-19-related restrictions are eased and people return to work. Pent-up demand for services such as surgical procedures, travel, entertainment, shopping and dining out should drive much of the improvement in economic activity in the next year or two, in the view of the portfolio manager.

Effective June 26, 2020, Advisor Series units have been capped. On August 4, 2020, Advisor Series units with initial sales charge and/or low-load sales charge options were re-designated as Series A units, as applicable. Advisor Series units with a deferred sales charge option, as applicable, remain capped and invested based on their existing redemption schedule.

Effective March 1, 2020, administration fees were reduced as follows: from 0.15% to 0.10% for Series A units.

Related-Party Transactions

Manager, Trustee and Portfolio Manager

RBC GAM is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada ("Royal Bank") and is the manager, trustee and portfolio manager of the Fund. RBC GAM is responsible for the Fund's day-to-day operations, holds title to the Fund's property on behalf of its unitholders, provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund and appoints distributors for the Fund. RBC GAM is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services. The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to RBC GAM, which, in turn, pays certain operating expenses of the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of units of the Fund. RBC GAM, as trustee, earns a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when unitholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

Distributors

RBC GAM, Royal Mutual Funds Inc., RBC Direct Investing Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc. and Phillips, Hager & North Investment Funds Ltd. are principal distributors of, or may distribute certain series of units of, the Fund. Dealers may receive an ongoing commission based on the total value of their clients' investment in certain series of units of the Fund.

Registrars

RBC GAM, RBC Investor Services Trust ("RBC IS") or Royal Bank (or a combination thereof) are the registrars of the Fund and keep records of who owns units of the Fund. The registrars earn a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Custodian

RBC IS is the custodian and holds the assets of the Fund. RBC IS earns a fee as the custodian, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Securities Lending Agent

To the extent the Fund may engage in securities lending transactions, RBC IS may act as the Fund's securities lending agent. Any revenue earned on such securities lending is split between the Fund and the securities lending agent.

The Fund has established standard brokerage and dealing agreements at market rates with related parties. For the periods ended December 31, 2020 and 2019, the related-party commissions were $66,000 (2019 – $212,000) or 5% (2019 – 14%) of the total transaction costs paid for this Fund.

Inter-Fund Trading

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. ¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

⁴ From February 27, 2017.

Effective March 1, 2020, the administration fees for Series A units were reduced to 0.10% from 0.15%. If the changes to the administration fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended December 31, 2020, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 1.88%.

Effective June 30, 2016, the management fees for Series A and Advisor Series units were reduced to 1.60% from 1.75%; for Series D units were reduced to 0.85% from 1.00%; and for Series F units were reduced to 0.60% from 0.75%. If the changes to the management fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended December 31, 2016, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 1.94%, Advisor Series – 1.92%, Series D – 1.06% and Series F – 0.80%.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees [†]
		Distribution	Other*

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.
