MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in European stocks in order to provide exposure to growth opportunities in the European economy and diversification benefits beyond North America.

To achieve its investment objective, the Fund invests most of its assets in the RBC European Equity Fund (the “underlying fund”). The portfolio manager of the underlying fund reviews the economic outlook for Europe and then selects stocks based on fundamental, technical and quantitative inputs. The underlying fund is managed to limit risk by spreading investments across different industries. The underlying fund may also invest in debt securities issued or guaranteed by European governments and international agencies.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Effective October 25, 2017, RBC GAM adopted the risk classification methodology under National Instrument 81-102 – Investment Funds (the “new risk classification methodology”) in respect of the RBC Corporate Class Funds. Pursuant to the new risk classification methodology, certain RBC Corporate Class Funds’ risk ratings were changed. RBC GAM reviews each fund’s risk rating on an annual basis or if there has been a material change to a fund’s investment objectives or investment strategies. Any changes to a fund’s risk rating are the result of RBC GAM’s annual review and the adoption of the new risk classification methodology.

There were no changes to the Fund’s risk rating during the reporting period.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value rose to $48 million as of March 31, 2018, from $30 million as of March 31, 2017. The increase was due mainly to net inflows.

Over the past year, the Fund’s Series A shares gained 9.8%, which underperformed the 10.7% rise in the benchmark. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while the benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Europe’s economy was characterized by the emergence of synchronized growth in 2017, particularly in the second half of the year, and into 2018. Analysts raised their profit estimates for the first time since 2011. Bolstering the outlook was an apparent decline in populist momentum in the early part of the period after the French and Dutch electorates steered toward anti-populist political parties. However, later elections in Germany and Italy showed that there remains a political split within Europe that is also reflected in Spain, where Catalonia voted to secede. Political developments did not affect financial markets to any great extent, as investors continued to pay more attention to rising corporate profitability and economic growth. Faster growth and inflation and a brightening labour outlook prompted the European Central Bank to say in October that it would consider scaling back bond purchases. Business confidence climbed steadily throughout the year, peaking in December, while inflation hovered around 1.5%.

Geographically, stock markets in Norway, Italy and Denmark were the strongest performers. The weakest were Ireland, Switzerland and Sweden. At the sector level, Energy and Materials were the strongest performers. Telecommunication Services and Health Care were the worst-performing sectors in the market, but strong stock selection in the Health Care sector was a positive for the Fund’s returns. Weak stock selection in the Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors was negative for returns.

The Irish airline Ryanair and the Danish pharmaceutical company Novo Nordisk were the top individual stock contributors to the Fund’s relative performance. Roche Holding, the Swiss health-care company, had the most negative impact on returns.

Recent Developments

Volatility returned to the European markets in the first quarter of 2018 as fears of a global trade war between the U.S. and China were accompanied by signs of a slowdown in European growth. European growth is not improving as quickly as many investors had thought, dampening the appetite for stocks that tend to benefit from faster economic growth.

Significant competing head and tail winds remain, with valuation polarization and political instability competing with positive EPS and GDP forecasts (although these tend to be lagging indicators). Question marks remain over the final composition of the Italian government and also the ability of the French president, Emmanuel Macron, to push through labour reforms.

March 31, 2018

The portfolio manager is, as always, cognizant of the wider macro environment, both for its challenges and opportunities. Nevertheless, the Fund's focus remains on the discipline of long-term investing in companies with strong competitive positions, low capital intensity, sustainable and/or improving profitability, and the right management strategy and governance structures.

Related-Party Transactions

Manager and Portfolio Manager

RBC GAM is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada ("Royal Bank") and is the manager and portfolio manager of the Fund. RBC GAM is responsible for the Fund's day-to-day operations, provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund and appoints distributors for the Fund. RBC GAM is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services. The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to RBC GAM, which, in turn, pays certain operating expenses of the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of mutual fund shares of the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when shareholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

Distributors

RBC GAM, Royal Mutual Funds Inc., RBC Direct Investing Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc. and Phillips, Hager & North Investment Funds Ltd. are the principal distributors of, or distribute certain series of the mutual fund shares of, the Fund. Dealers receive an ongoing commission based on the total value of their clients' Series A, Advisor Series and Series D mutual fund shares.

Custodian

RBC Investor Services Trust ("RBC IS") is the custodian and holds the assets of the Fund. RBC IS earns a fee as the custodian, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Registrars

Royal Bank, RBC IS and RBC GAM are the registrars of the Fund and keep records of who owns the mutual fund shares of the Fund. The registrars earn a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Other Related-Party Transactions

Pursuant to applicable securities legislation, the Fund relied on the standing instructions from the Independent Review Committee with respect to one or more of the following transactions:

Related-Party Trading Activities

- (a) trades in securities of Royal Bank;
- (b) investments in the securities of issuers for which a related-party dealer acted as an underwriter during the distribution of such securities and the 60-day period following the conclusion of such distribution of the underwritten securities to the public;
- (c) purchases of equity and debt securities from or sales of equity or debt securities to a related-party dealer, where it acted as principal; and

Inter-Fund Trading

- (d) purchases or sales of securities of an issuer from or to another investment fund or managed account managed by RBC GAM.

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Inter-Fund Trading is in the best interests of each Fund.

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on expenses for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to shareholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

⁴ Effective June 30, 2016, the management fees were changed in respect of Series A and Advisor Series mutual fund shares of the Fund. If the changes to the management fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 2.12% and Advisor Series – 2.14%.

⁵ From October 16, 2014.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional shares of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.
