MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth, with a secondary focus on modest income, by investing primarily in Canadian, U.S. and international equities and fixed-income securities, either directly or indirectly through investment in other funds managed by RBC GAM or an affiliate of RBC GAM (called the “underlying funds”). The Fund aims to exclude securities of issuers directly engaged in the extraction, processing and transportation of fossil fuels such as coal, oil and natural gas.

It is currently expected that the Fund will invest up to 100% of its net assets in units of the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Short-Term Bond Fund, the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Bond Fund, the RBC Vision QUBE Fossil Fuel Free Low Volatility Canadian Equity Fund, the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Emerging Markets Equity Fund and the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Global Equity Fund.

To achieve the Fund’s objectives, the portfolio manager of the underlying fund begins by excluding issuers identified in two exclusion lists that determine its investable universe. The underlying fund applies the two exclusion lists concurrently. The underlying fund may from time to time depart from its exclusion lists when the portfolio manager of the underlying fund has determined that it would be in the best interest of the underlying fund to do so.

The first exclusion list is based on the Carbon Underground 200, which identifies the top 100 public coal companies globally and the top 100 public oil and gas companies globally, ranked by the potential carbon emissions content of their reported reserves. The Carbon Underground 200 list is maintained by Fossil Free Indexes LLC, and is revised quarterly.

With respect to the second exclusion list, Sustainalytics determines and excludes companies that directly, or indirectly through a significant stake in a subsidiary, derive any revenues from or are involved in the (i) exploration and extraction of Arctic oil and gas, (ii) exploration, production, refining, transportation and/or storage of oil and natural gas, (iii) extraction of oil sands, shale energy and/or thermal coal, and/or (iv) provision of storage, transportation, mining and refining services of thermal coal. The underlying fund also excludes companies that directly, or indirectly through a significant stake in a subsidiary, derive 10% or more of their revenues from the provision of tailor-made products and services that support oil and gas exploration, production, refining, transportation and/or storage, or from power generated by thermal coal, as determined by Sustainalytics.

On a monthly basis, Sustainalytics provides RBC GAM with a list of ineligible issuers based on the underlying fund’s exclusion criteria. Sustainalytics periodically monitors the underlying fund’s holdings against the exclusion criteria.

The portfolio manager of the underlying fund then applies its multi-disciplined investment process to select securities for the underlying fund. This includes the incorporation of ESG factors to the extent that an issuer’s management and exposure to such ESG factors are material to the risk-adjusted long-term performance of the security and/or the underlying fund.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value rose to $171 million as of December 31, 2025, from $143 million at the end of 2024. The increase was due to a combination of net inflows and investment returns.

Over the past year, the Fund’s Series F units gained 8.9%, which underperformed the 11.1% rise in the benchmark. The broad-based index 1 rose 2.6% and the broad-based index 2 rose 15.4%. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

The global economy and financial markets largely withstood the impact of new U.S. trade barriers, as the positive impact of government stimulus and artificial intelligence (“AI”) on growth underpinned returns for the year as a whole. The announcement of higher tariffs in the first half of 2025 produced a temporary plunge in stocks and corporate bonds on concern that U.S. policy would curtail global growth. However, trade deals proved less punitive than had been feared, many central banks cut interest rates, and more companies began to benefit from the cost savings offered by AI. The global expansion was also bolstered by capital expenditures related to building out the infrastructure required for AI, especially in the U.S. and China.

The Fund’s overweight position in equities and underweight position in fixed income had a positive impact on performance. Canadian bonds rose for a third straight year as central banks extended interest-rate cuts amid a slowdown in domestic economic growth.

The Bank of Canada (the “BOC”) lowered its benchmark interest rate by 1 percentage point to 2.25% in 2025, aiming to shield the weak economy from the threat of higher U.S. tariffs. The BOC also signalled that it had completed its current round of interest-rate reductions, leaving government spending to support the economic expansion. Investors were increasingly concerned about the outcome of next year’s renegotiation of Canada’s trade pact with the U.S. and Mexico, fearing that failure to reach a deal could exacerbate current economic strains. The U.S. Federal Reserve (the “Fed”) cut its benchmark interest rate by 0.75 percentage point in stages over the second half of 2025, bringing the benchmark rate down to a range of 3.50% to 3.75%. These rate reductions were aimed at stimulating growth and supporting a softening labour market. In December, the Fed announced an end to its bond-selling program to support the U.S. banking system and Treasuries. U.S. bonds outperformed their Canadian counterparts given expectations that the Fed would continue to reduce rates while the BOC stayed on hold. Returns in the fixed-income segment of the portfolio were boosted by the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Bond Fund and the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Short Term Bond Fund.

Following a volatile start to 2025, equity markets ultimately found their footing and rewarded investors with strong returns in most major markets. In the U.S., equities were driven by AI and continued technological advances that led to increased investment in data centres, semiconductors and energy farms. Canadian stocks outperformed most major international indexes, led by gains in shares of precious-metals companies and financial firms. Gold producers as a group more than doubled, with bullion surging to records exceeding US$4,300 during the period, due to geopolitical crises, concern about the independence of the Fed and U.S.-dollar weakness. Many European markets also hit record highs as the rise in the euro and significantly enhanced defence spending enabled regional stocks to outperform in Canadian- and U.S.-dollar terms. Emerging-market stocks recorded significant gains in 2025, beating developed markets for the first time in five years as the U.S. dollar weakened and Chinese equities rebounded from poor relative performance since the pandemic. Returns were bolstered by the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Global Equity Fund and the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Emerging Markets Equity Fund.

During 2025, one issuer, OMERS Realty Corp., was deemed ineligible by Sustainalytics for failing to meet the ESG exclusion criteria in RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Bond Fund, an underlying fund of the Fund. Sustainalytics cited that the issuer was ineligible due to the issuer’s parent company, OMERS Administration Corporation, deriving fossil fuel revenues above the ESG exclusion criteria revenue thresholds through its infrastructure portfolio. Sustainalytics does not research OMERS Realty Corp. as a separate entity from its parent company.

After further research, RBC GAM determined that OMERS Realty Corp. had separate and distinct activities from OMERS Administration Corporation’s infrastructure portfolio and OMERS Realty Corp. did not derive revenues from fossil fuel related activities. OMERS Realty Corp. is OMERS’ primary vehicle for investing in Canadian real estate assets and RBC GAM determined that it would be in the best interest of the RBC Vision Fossil Fuel Free Bond Fund to invest in the issuer. As a result, RBC GAM departed from the exclusion list provided by Sustainalytics and considered the issuer to be eligible for investment.

No other material investment decision was made based on the ESG exclusion criteria during 2025. In the opinion of Sustainalytics and RBC GAM, all other holdings in the Fund were eligible at the time of review.

Recent Developments

Economic growth should accelerate moderately in the year ahead, in the view of the portfolio manager, and may pleasantly surprise relative to consensus expectations. Tariff headwinds should fade, and important tailwinds are set to blow. Inflation may not fall by quite as much as consensus expectations for 2026 but should slowly ease after peaking in the spring.

An environment of moderate economic growth should allow inflation to subside sufficiently for continued interest-rate cuts by the Fed and foster strong corporate profit growth. Stocks are expected to continue outperforming bonds, but the portfolio manager recognizes that the potential for outsized gains has diminished following this year’s strong performance that pushed some valuations to extreme levels. Against this backdrop, sovereign bonds should deliver cash-like returns and offer ballast against equity-market volatility should the economy disappoint. Accordingly, the portfolio manager reduced the Fund’s equity overweight by 1 percentage point late in 2025 and placed proceeds in cash. The portfolio manager also modified regional equity allocations by increasing U.S. equity exposure, acknowledging that strong momentum in mega-cap technology stocks could persist. However, the Fund remains underweight U.S. equities given their relatively high valuations and overweight international equities given their relatively appealing valuations.

Effective January 1, 2026, Brenda Eaton was appointed as Chair of the Independent Review Committee (the “IRC”) following the retirement of Suromitra Sanatani, who has served as a dedicated member of the IRC since 2017. Effective January 1, 2026, Geoffrey D. Creighton was appointed as a new member of the IRC.

<sup>1</sup> The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

<sup>2</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

<sup>3</sup> The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.

Annual Compound Returns (%)
