MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund aims to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in other funds managed by RBC GAM or an affiliate of RBC GAM, emphasizing funds that invest in equity securities of companies located or active in emerging markets.

The Fund invests up to 100% of its net assets in the RBC Emerging Markets Dividend Fund, RBC Emerging Markets ex-China Dividend Fund, RBC Emerging Markets Equity Fund, RBC Emerging Markets ex-China Equity Fund, RBC Emerging Markets Equity Focus Fund and RBC Emerging Markets Small-Cap Equity Fund (the “underlying funds”), which are sub-advised by RBC Global Asset Management (UK) Limited. The underlying funds invest primarily in securities of companies located or active in emerging market countries.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value rose to $458 million as of December 31, 2023, from $424 million at the end of 2022. The increase was due to investment returns, partially offset by net redemptions.

Over the past year, the Fund’s Series F units gained 11.3%, which outperformed the 6.9% rise in the benchmark. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Emerging-market equities rose in 2023 to halt two years of declines, after subsiding inflation triggered interest-rate cuts and their promise of faster economic growth. The Information Technology sector drove emerging and developed markets, following the U.S., on expectations that advances in artificial intelligence (“AI”) would spur demand for computer chips and other technology needed to fuel AI.

China, the largest constituent of the emerging-market benchmark, was a significant exception to the upbeat story for emerging markets. The removal of the country’s remaining pandemic restrictions was taken by investors as a positive in early 2023, but consumers and businesses did not spend and invest as had been expected, holding back Chinese equity markets. Overall, emerging markets underperformed developed markets.

Stock and sector selection aided the Fund’s relative returns during the period. Stock selection in the Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary sectors was positive, as was underweight exposure to Materials and Utilities. At the country level, stock selection was positive in South Korea, India and Mexico, although negative in China. Overall, underweight exposure to China and Thailand bolstered relative returns.

The top contributors to the Fund’s relative performance over the period were SK Hynix, Fomento Económico Mexicano, Meituan and MediaTek. The Fund also benefited from the absence of JD.com in the portfolio. Portfolio stocks that limited relative returns the most were Ping An Insurance, Samsung Electronics, AIA Group and Yum China. The Fund was also negatively affected by the absence of PDD Holdings in the portfolio.

Recent Developments

Emerging-market returns are based largely on movements in the U.S. dollar, and the U.S. dollar’s strength over the past decade has limited the performance of emerging-market equities. There are, however, reasons to believe that this trend may reverse. The first is that the U.S. Federal Reserve may be embarking on interest-rate cuts in 2024, which tend to coincide with a weakening U.S. dollar. Moreover, further declines in emerging-market currencies should be limited by their attractive valuations, relatively high inflation-adjusted interest rates and strong current accounts.

Aside from currency considerations are two factors that should support emerging-market performance over the medium term. First, emerging-market corporate earnings and economic growth look set to improve from cyclically low levels, driven by improved productivity, structural reforms and growth-friendly fiscal policies. Second, emerging-market stocks are attractively valued, particularly relative to developed markets, following the significant underperformance of recent years.

Effective January 1, 2023, the administration fees for Series O units were reduced to 0.02% from 0.05%.

Effective January 1, 2023, Suromitra Sanatani was appointed as Chair of the Independent Review Committee (“the IRC”). Effective February 1, 2023, Joanne Vézina was appointed as a member of the IRC. Effective March 1, 2023, Enrique Cuyekeng was appointed as a member of the IRC.

Related-Party Transactions

Manager, Trustee and Portfolio Manager

RBC GAM is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada ("Royal Bank") and is the manager, trustee and portfolio manager of the Fund. RBC GAM is responsible for the Fund's day-to-day operations, holds title to the Fund's property on behalf of its unitholders, provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund and appoints distributors for the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of units of the Fund. RBC GAM, as trustee, earns a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when unitholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. ¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Effective January 1, 2023, the administration fees for Series O units were reduced to 0.02% from 0.05%. If the changes to the administration fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended December 31, 2022, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series O – 0.19%.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees [†]
		Distribution	Other*
Series A	1.85%	54%	46%	0.05%
Series D	1.10%	23%	77%	0.05%
Series F	0.85%	–	100%	0.05%
Series O	n/a	n/a	n/a	0.02%

Series O – no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series O units. Series O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, trustee, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

[†] Effective January 1, 2023, the administration fees for Series O units were reduced to 0.02% from 0.05%.

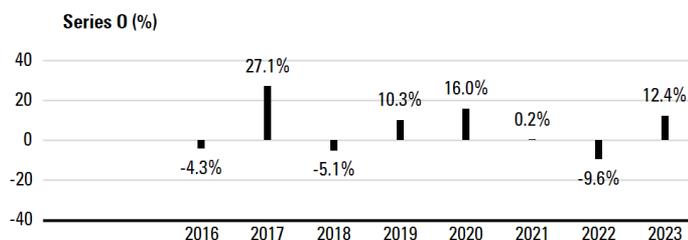

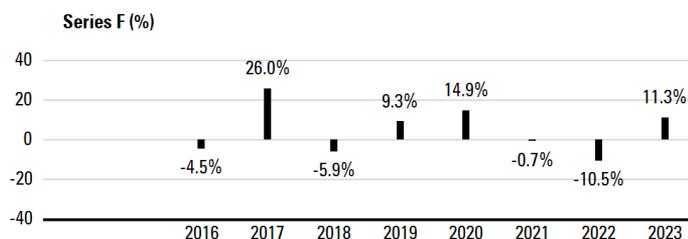

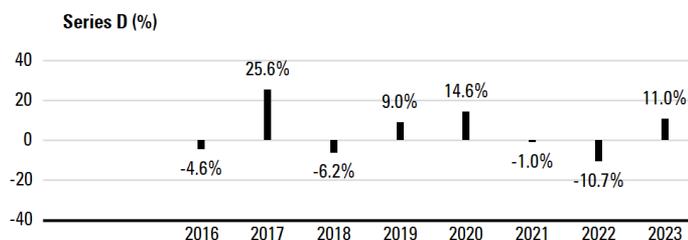

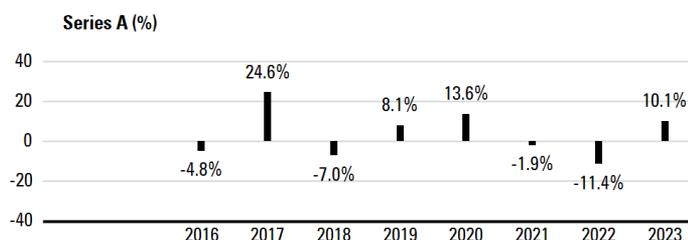

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.

Annual Compound Returns (%)

The table shows the annual compound returns for each series of the Fund and for each of the periods indicated ended on December 31, 2023, compared with the following benchmark:

MSCI Emerging Markets Total Return Net Index (CAD)
