MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term total returns consisting of regular dividend income and modest capital growth.

To achieve its objective, the Fund invests primarily in preferred equity securities of major European companies with above-average dividend yields. The Fund's investment process is primarily based on fundamental research, although the portfolio manager will also consider quantitative and technical factors. Stock selection decisions are ultimately based on an understanding of the company, its business and its outlook.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund's overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value rose to $160 million as of December 31, 2021, from $147 million at the end of 2020. The increase was due to investment returns, partially offset by net redemptions.

Over the past year, the Fund's Series A units gained 13.6%, which underperformed the 15.3% rise in the benchmark. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

European equity markets climbed in 2021 as the global economy continued its recovery from the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Stocks rose steadily during the first six months of the year given an easing of pandemic-related social restrictions and the pursuit by central banks of policies aimed at supporting economic growth. However, equities fell toward the end of 2021 after the emergence of the Omicron variant and amid concern about rising interest rates in response to inflationary pressures.

Inflation in the eurozone hit 4.9% in November, the highest level since the euro currency was created two decades ago. The increase, driven partly by rising energy prices, put pressure on the European Central Bank to rein in monetary stimulus. The Bank of England, meanwhile, raised interest rates in December, the first time in three years that the U.K. central bank had carried out a rate hike.

The pandemic's passage into a third year and rising inflation worries coincided with the end of Angela Merkel's 16-year tenure as German chancellor, as she stepped down as leader of Europe's largest economy and most influential member of the EU. Merkel's replacement is Olaf Scholz of the centrist Social Democratic Party, which leads a coalition that includes two left-of-centre political parties.

The stock markets of Austria, the Netherlands and Norway were Europe's best-performing in 2021 and Portugal's was the worst, with Spain's and Belgium's also performing poorly. At the sector level, Information Technology and Energy were the strongest performers, while Real Estate and Utilities were the worst performing. The Fund's underweight position in the Energy sector held back portfolio returns, while performance benefited from Financials-sector exposure that was in line with the benchmark. Among individual stocks, ASM International, a Dutch producer of gear used to manufacture semiconductors, was the biggest contributor to the Fund's performance, and ING Groep, a Dutch bank, ranked second. Ubisoft Entertainment, a French gaming-software company, held back returns the most.

Recent Developments

The emergence of the Omicron variant serves as a reminder to investors that the pandemic remains a powerful influence on both the economy and financial markets. The degree to which governments will feel forced to reintroduce social restrictions is likely to dictate which stocks perform well in the months ahead and which underperform. Another looming issue is how central banks will attempt to control inflation, especially as much of the current inflation seems driven as much by a lack of supply as by excessive demand, the latter of which is the kind of inflation that rate hikes tend to address. Central banks will have to be careful about the pace at which they make adjustments to the winding up of asset purchases and undertake interest-rate hikes – their two main policy tools for slowing inflation.

Effective February 28, 2021, Ms. Catherine J. Kloepfer resigned as Vice Chair of the Independent Review Committee (the "IRC"). Effective March 22, 2021, Mr. Paul K. Bates was appointed as Vice Chair of the IRC. Effective April 1, 2021, Ms. Brenda Eaton was appointed as a member of the IRC.

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees
		Distribution	Other*
Series A	1.75%	57%	43%	0.15%
Series D	1.00%	25%	75%	0.15%
Series F	0.75%	–	100%	0.15%
Series O	n/a	n/a	n/a	0.05%

Series O – no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series O units. Series O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, trustee, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.

Annual Compound Returns (%)

The table shows the annual compound returns for each series of the Fund and for each of the periods indicated ended on December 31, 2021, compared with the following benchmark:
