MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE (in USD)

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide total returns comprised of interest income and modest capital growth by investing primarily in higher-yielding corporate debt securities issued by U.S. corporations.

To achieve its objectives, the portfolio manager invests primarily in debt securities issued by U.S. corporations that are rated below BBB(-) by Standard & Poor's or an equivalent rating agency. The portfolio manager employs a value-focused philosophy for corporate bonds, striving to invest in quality companies having stable to improving credit profiles, and which are considered to be undervalued given the current market sentiment.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund's overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value rose to $119 million as of December 31, 2023, from $106 million at the end of 2022. The increase was due to investment returns.

Over the past year, the Fund's Series F units gained 11.3%, which underperformed the 12.6% rise in the benchmark. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

U.S. high-yield bonds rebounded in 2023 from losses in 2022, as easing inflation stirred speculation that U.S. policymakers were finished raising interest rates for the foreseeable future and the economy sidestepped recession.

The high-yield recovery started in the spring after regulators defused a short-lived banking crisis that led to the second- and third-biggest U.S. bank failures by assets. The speed at which the U.S. Federal Reserve raised rates – it was the most aggressive rate-hiking cycle since the early 1980s – was partly responsible for investors' loss of confidence in the banks. Returns were bolstered in the second half of 2023 by optimism that stubbornly high inflation was receding following almost two years of benchmark interest-rate hikes.

Also aiding returns in 2023 was a modest supply of newly issued bonds and a shrinking high-yield market as many companies were upgraded to investment-grade status. Given these factors and strong U.S. economic growth, defaults remained low and lower-rated bonds outperformed higher-rated bonds for the year as a whole.

The Fund's returns were helped by holdings in cruise lines and cinemas, which benefited from strong consumer demand for travel and experiences. The Fund's overweight position in the Energy sector also benefited returns as energy prices recovered in the third quarter. Limiting returns were the Fund's allocation to cash, and positions in a hospital real estate investment trust and a low-fare U.S. domestic airline.

Recent Developments

Riskier assets have rallied on market expectations that we may have seen the peak in interest rates, increasing the probability of an economic "soft landing." The rise in prices of high-yield bonds resulted in the benchmark yield falling to 7.6% at the end of 2023 from 9.5% just two months earlier (prices rise as yields fall) and has limited the potential for gains in 2024.

While high-yield-bond valuations are still somewhat attractive, the premium to own lower-rated corporate bonds is less than the historical average and may be insufficient to compensate for increasing risks. Moreover, the outlook for the U.S. economy is cloudy, and the portfolio manager remains cautious. Bonds of some companies that missed earnings estimates have fallen in recent months. For now at least, high-yield defaults remain low, the quality of the companies in the high-yield market remains relatively high, and corporate earnings are strong.

Effective January 1, 2023, Suromitra Sanatani was appointed as Chair of the Independent Review Committee ("the IRC"). Effective February 1, 2023, Joanne Vézina was appointed as a member of the IRC. Effective March 1, 2023, Enrique Cuyegkeng was appointed as a member of the IRC.

<sup>1</sup> The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

<sup>2</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

<sup>3</sup> The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

|          | ManagementFees | Breakdown of Services |        | AdministrationFees |
|----------|--------------------|-----------------------|--------|------------------------|
|          |                    | Distribution          | Other* |                        |
| Series A | 1.25%              | 40%                   | 60%    | 0.05%                  |
| Series D | 0.90%              | 17%                   | 83%    | 0.05%                  |
| Series F | 0.75%              | —                     | 100%   | 0.05%                  |
| Series O | n/a                | n/a                   | n/a    | 0.02%                  |

Series O – no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series O units. Series O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, trustee, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

PAST PERFORMANCE (in USD)

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.

Annual Compound Returns (%)

The table shows the annual compound returns for each series of the Fund and for each of the periods indicated ended on December 31, 2023, compared with the following benchmark:
