MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund pursues above-average total returns comprised of interest income and capital growth by investing in higher-yielding corporate or government debt securities from anywhere around the world.

The Fund invests primarily in global high yield debt securities rated below BBB(-) by Standard & Poor's. The portfolio manager employs a value-focused philosophy for corporate bonds, striving to invest in quality companies having stable to improving credit profiles which are undervalued given current market sentiment. The Fund manages risks by limiting its holdings in any single industry, issuer, country or credit rating. The Fund may use derivatives to protect against losses from changes in interest rates, market indices and currency fluctuations.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund's overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the Fund and the suitability of the Fund for investors remain as discussed in the Simplified Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value rose to $3.3 billion as of December 31, 2023, from $3.2 billion at the end of 2022. The increase was due to investment returns, partially offset by net redemptions.

Over the past year, the Fund's Series F units gained 10.6%, which underperformed the 10.8% rise in the benchmark. The broad-based index 1 rose 11.6% and the broad-based index 2 rose 10.0%. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

U.S. high-yield corporate and emerging-market government bonds delivered gains in 2023, supported by a stronger-than-expected economy, increasing confidence that the U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") might soon start considering interest-rate cuts and a modest supply of new high-yield bonds. The reaction of investors to the possibility of lower rates in 2024 was reflected in falling bond yields and a drop in the premium required to hold the kind of riskier bonds held by the Fund. Returns were particularly solid in the last quarter of 2023, masking the fluctuations that prevailed through much of the year amid predictions of a U.S. recession, disappointing Chinese economic growth and the outbreak of war in the Middle East.

Bonds issued by riskier CCC rated high-yield issuers and emerging-market governments benefited the most as the market began to price in an environment of lower interest rates in the year ahead. The move higher in bond prices reflected investors' view that the high interest burden for both high-yield and emerging-market issuers may receive a reprieve in coming months as lower market yields begin to translate into lower borrowing costs. The gains were most significant for emerging-market issuers whose bonds traded at distressed levels or in default as investors anticipated that these countries would have a better chance of meeting their repayment schedules and be able to resume selling bonds.

The Fund's returns benefited from exposure to emerging-market countries such as El Salvador, the Dominican Republic, Argentina and Nigeria. Also helping returns were the Fund's positions in cruise lines and cinemas, which benefited from strong consumer demand for travel and spending on experiences. Overweight positions in energy companies also benefited the Fund as energy prices recovered in the third quarter. In contrast, the Fund's below-benchmark exposure to bonds with high sensitivity to changes in U.S. interest rates, such as the ones issued by Poland, Chile and China, hurt relative performance given that yields on U.S. Treasuries fell significantly in late 2023. Also limiting results was the Fund's position in a hospital REIT and a low-fare U.S. domestic airline. The Fund's higher-than-benchmark allocation to emerging-market bonds relative to U.S. high yield also hurt results.

Recent Developments

Valuations of U.S. high-yield-corporate and emerging-market government bonds now seem stretched after the significant move higher in prices, limiting the potential for gains in the first half of 2024. The portfolio manager remains cautious about the economic outlook, and bonds of companies that have recorded disappointing earnings in recent months have fallen.

The economic climate means that the portfolio manager is also maintaining a guarded view of the potential for emerging-market government bonds. However, the portfolio manager is maintaining an overweight position in emerging-market fixed income relative to U.S. high-yield corporate bonds, as the U.S. securities are likely to underperform in the event that interest rates decline.

Effective January 1, 2023, Suromitra Sanatani was appointed as Chair of the Independent Review Committee ("the IRC"). Effective February 1, 2023, Joanne Vézina was appointed as a member of the IRC. Effective March 1, 2023, Enrique Cuyegkeng was appointed as a member of the IRC.

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Effective March 1, 2020, the administration fees for Series A units were reduced to 0.05% from 0.10%. If the changes to the administration fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended December 31, 2020, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 1.73%.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees
		Distribution	Other*
Series A	1.50%	50%	50%	0.05%
Series D	0.90%	17%	83%	0.05%
Series F	0.75%	—	100%	0.05%
Series O	n/a	n/a	n/a	0.02%

Series O – no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series O units. Series O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, trustee, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year.
