MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The ETF seeks to provide income for a limited period of time ending on its termination date by replicating, to the extent possible, the investment results that correspond generally to the performance, before fees and expenses, of the FTSE Canada 2027 Maturity Corporate Bond Index*. The FTSE Canada 2027 Maturity Corporate Bond Index is designed to represent the performance of a held-to-maturity portfolio consisting of, primarily, Canadian dollar-denominated investment grade corporate bonds with effective maturities in 2027.

The ETF intends to invest at least 90% of its assets in and hold the securities that comprise the FTSE Canada 2027 Maturity Corporate Bond Index and/or securities that have economic characteristics that are substantially similar to those that comprise the index.

The ETF will terminate on or about September 30, 2027.

Risk

There were no significant changes to the ETF that materially affected the ETF's overall level of risk during the reporting period. The risks of investing in the ETF and the suitability of the ETF for investors remain as discussed in the Prospectus.

Results of Operations

The ETF's net asset value rose to $289 million as of September 30, 2023, from $91 million on September 30, 2022. The increase was due to net inflows.

Over the past financial year, the ETF's units gained 2.3%, which underperformed the 2.5% rise in the benchmark. The broad-based index fell 1.4%. The ETF's return is after the deduction of expenses, while benchmark and broad-based index returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of the ETF.

The ETF posted gains over the past 12-month period amid increasingly attractive bond yields, which more than offset bond-price declines tied to the past year's rise in interest rates. The Bank of Canada (the "BOC") boosted its benchmark interest rate to 5% from 3.25% during the period as inflation stayed stubbornly above the central bank's 2% target. Corporate-bond yields rose significantly in early 2023, a sign of investor concern, after the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank and several other midsize U.S. financial institutions.

Corporate bonds with maturities between one year and five years outperformed federal and provincial bonds of similar maturity due to the extra yield provided by non-government fixed income. Returns on securities with relatively short maturities (1 year to 3 years) exceeded those on bonds with maturities of more than 3 years as longer-dated bonds were more negatively affected by the overall climb in interest rates. All major sectors recorded similar returns except for infrastructure bonds, which lagged. Corporate-bond returns were aided by a drop in the premium required by investors to hold them, indicating that investors considered corporate yields high enough to offset the risks they carry versus government securities.

Recent Developments

It is highly likely that the BOC and U.S. Federal Reserve are at, or near the end of, the current round of interest-rate hikes. This does not mean that the two central banks will move to cut rates any time soon, as inflation is still well short of the targeted 2%. As a result, bond yields will stay at current levels for the foreseeable future, in the view of the portfolio manager, and could even rise modestly if inflation remains sticky.

Bond-default rates are rising for high-yield bonds but remain low for investment-grade securities. The premiums offered for corporate bonds relative to government securities are attractive on a historical basis, and returns should stay positive over the next six months assuming inflation does not return to the uncomfortably high levels of 2022.

A high percentage of the bonds held in the ETF trades at a discount to par, offering positive tax implications for investors. Investors should continue to expect temporary periods of volatility as the impact of higher interest rates and the unwinding of policies that had helped hold down bond yields filters through the economy and financial system.

Effective April 13, 2023, the management fees were reduced to 0.20% from 0.25%.

Effective December 31, 2022, Charles F. Macfarlane stepped down as a member of the Independent Review Committee ("the IRC"). Effective January 1, 2023, Suromitra Sanatani was appointed as Chair of the IRC. Effective February 1, 2023, Joanne Vézina was appointed as a member of the IRC. Effective March 1, 2023, Enrique Cuyegkeng was appointed as a member of the IRC.

To the extent the ETF may engage in securities lending transactions, RBC IS may act as the ETF's securities lending agent. Any revenue earned on such securities lending is split between the ETF and the securities lending agent.

Related-Party Trading Activities

- (a) trades in securities of Royal Bank;

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the ETF, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the ETF.

Ratios and Supplemental Data

As at	Net Asset Value Per Unit ($)	Net Asset Value ($000s)	Number of Units Outstanding (000s)	Management Expense Ratio (%) ¹	MER Before Absorption (%) ¹	Portfolio Turnover Rate (%) ²	Trading Expense Ratio (%) ³	Closing Market Price ($)
Sept. 30, 2023	16.92	289 407	17 100	0.25	0.25	23.42	—	16.96

Sept. 30, 2020 ⁴	19.95	1 995	100	0.28	0.28	—	—	20.01

² The ETF's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the ETF.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the ETF and the ETF's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

⁴ From August 21, 2020.

Effective April 13, 2023, the management fees were reduced to 0.20% from 0.25%. If the changes to the management fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended September 30, 2023, the adjusted MER for the ETF would be: 0.23%.

Management Fees

RBC GAM is the manager, trustee and portfolio manager of the ETF. RBC GAM is paid a management fee per annum of the net asset value by the ETF as compensation for its services. The management fee of the ETF is calculated at 0.20% annually, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of the ETF.

Effective April 13, 2023, the management fees were reduced to 0.20% from 0.25%.
