MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of companies located in or with significant business interests in China.

To achieve the Fund's objectives, the Fund invests in equity securities listed in onshore China as well as in other jurisdictions where Chinese companies are listed, including Hong Kong, the U.S., the U.K. and Germany. The Fund may invest in A-Shares (through Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect), B-Shares, H-Shares (listed in the Hong Kong market) and American Depository Receipts.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value was $636 million as of June 30, 2022.

Over the past six months, the Fund's Series A units lost 16.0%. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Chinese equities declined during the period as harsh COVID-19-related lockdowns in Shanghai and other metropolitan areas led to the slowest pace of economic growth in about 20 years. In the March–June quarter, about 40 cities, accounting for one-quarter of China's GDP, were in some form of lockdown. As a result, investors had by the end of the period lowered their growth forecasts for China's economy to around 4%, compared with the government's 5.5% target at the beginning of 2022. The lockdown led to manufacturing shutdowns that hit Chinese computer makers especially hard. Growth sectors, including Health Care, underperformed, as rising global interest rates reduced the attractiveness of corporate cash flows.

Individual stocks that held back portfolio returns included Bii Biosciences, a Chinese biotechnology company whose experimental COVID-19 therapy failed to gain approval as quickly as investors had expected, and Alibaba, a Chinese internet retailer hurt by tepid economic growth. Returns were aided by BOC Hong Kong, as higher U.S. and Hong Kong interest rates bolstered interest income and earnings. AIA, a Hong Kong–based insurance company, also boosted the Fund's returns, as demand for policies recovered, particularly in Southeast Asia.

During the first half of 2022, the Fund eliminated its position in Great Wall Motor, an automobile manufacturer whose sales fell sharply, and added KE Holdings, a Chinese online real estate brokerage.

Portfolio turnover can be high for the Fund, as the sub-advisor attempts to generate better returns through active security and sector selection.

Recent Developments

The sub-advisor expects Chinese economic growth to remain weak in the second half of 2022, given Beijing's reluctance to transition away from its "zero-COVID" strategy. Other major headwinds for the economy include stringent COVID-19 testing requirements, a weak real estate market and an expected slowdown in exports as the global economy slows. The sub-advisor anticipates that the Chinese government will continue with monetary stimulus sufficient to ensure the economy does not slow down further.

Related-Party Transactions

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Inter-Fund Trading is in the best interests of each Fund.

<sup>1</sup> The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

<sup>2</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

<sup>3</sup> The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees

Series A	1.85%	54%	46%	0.20%
Series D	1.10%	23%	77%	0.20%
Series F	0.85%	—	100%	0.20%
Series O	n/a	n/a	n/a	0.20%

Series O – no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series O units. Series O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, trustee, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year or interim period.

Inception dates are not provided for series that have been in existence for more than 10 years.
