MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth by investing in equity securities of companies around the world in any or all of the Energy, Materials, Industrials and Utilities sectors.

To achieve its investment objective, the Fund invests most of its assets in the RBC Global Resources Fund (the “underlying fund”). The underlying fund pursues global companies with a leading market position, high and sustainable profitability, sound finances and attractive valuations relative to peers and the market. The Fund will focus on mid- to large-cap stocks, but will also invest in smaller companies.

Results of Operations

The Fund’s net asset value was $6 million as of September 30, 2021.

Over the past six months, the Fund’s Series A shares gained 1.9%. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Commodity prices extended gains during the period, with lumber a notable exception, as global economic activity continued to recover from the impact of the coronavirus. The price of benchmark Brent crude oil climbed about 20% during the period to US$75 per barrel, driven by rising demand for oil and refined products. To meet the increased demand, OPEC and non-OPEC producers gradually boosted supply. Shares of oil and gas producers rose alongside crude-oil prices, with oil and natural-gas producers gaining about 20% over the period, although the Energy sector as a whole – including oil-services companies and “green” energy – was up significantly less.

Prices for copper and iron ore rose to all-time highs in May and were up for the period as a whole, but had retreated significantly from their peaks by the end of September. Slower demand for commodities in China and the release of commodity reserves by the Chinese government were among the factors that caused prices to fall back.

Sector allocation between the Energy and Materials sectors had a limited impact on the Fund’s relative returns. Among individual stocks, the Fund’s performance in the Energy sector was aided by positions in oil and gas exploration and production companies including Hess, ConocoPhillips and Pioneer Natural Resources. Holdings in Tourmaline Oil and Denbury, which capture and store energy-linked pollutants, also aided returns. Returns in the Materials sector were aided by overweight positions in Filo Mining and Talon Metals, which mine copper and nickel; Nucor, a steel producer; and Louisiana-Pacific, which makes building products.

Recent Developments

Actions by the Chinese government to clamp down on commodity speculation and increase supplies of agricultural commodities have pushed down the price of some commodities. Further pressure is coming from concern that rising inflation will prompt U.S. policymakers to boost interest rates too early, thereby slowing economic growth.

In the medium term, however, the increased probability of higher taxes and royalties for the mining industry, especially in copper-producing countries like Chile and Peru, suggest that prices will rise. Moreover, rising capital costs and concerns about the impact of mining on the environment are making it more difficult to gain approval for new projects.

Effective April 1, 2021, Ms. Brenda Eaton was appointed as a member of the Independent Review Committee.

Related-Party Transactions

Manager and Portfolio Manager

RBC GAM is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Royal Bank of Canada (“Royal Bank”) and is the manager and portfolio manager of the Fund. RBC GAM is responsible for the Fund’s day-to-day operations, provides investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund and appoints distributors for the Fund. RBC GAM is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services. The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to RBC GAM, which, in turn, pays certain operating expenses of the Fund. Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of mutual fund shares of the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when shareholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. The Fund also maintains bank accounts and overdraft provisions with Royal Bank for which Royal Bank may earn a fee. Affiliates of RBC GAM that provide services to the Fund in the course of their normal businesses are discussed below.

Distributors

RBC GAM, Royal Mutual Funds Inc., RBC Direct Investing Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc. and Phillips, Hager & North Investment Funds Ltd. are principal distributors of, or may distribute certain series of the mutual fund shares of, the Fund. Dealers receive an ongoing commission based on the total value of their clients’ investment in certain series of mutual fund shares of the Fund.

Registrars

RBC GAM, RBC Investor Services Trust ("RBC IS") or Royal Bank (or a combination thereof) are the registrars of the Fund and keep records of who owns mutual fund shares of the Fund. The registrars earn a fee, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Custodian

RBC IS is the custodian and holds the assets of the Fund. RBC IS earns a fee as the custodian, which is paid by the manager from the fixed administration fee paid by the Fund.

Other Related-Party Transactions

Pursuant to applicable securities legislation, the Fund relied on the standing instructions from the Independent Review Committee with respect to one or more of the following transactions:

Related-Party Trading Activities

- (a) trades in securities of Royal Bank;

The applicable standing instructions require that Related-Party Trading Activities and Inter-Fund Trading be conducted in accordance with RBC GAM policy and that RBC GAM advise the Independent Review Committee of a material breach of any standing instruction. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Related-Party Trading Activities (i) is made free from any influence of Royal Bank or its associates or affiliates and without taking into account any consideration relevant to Royal Bank or its affiliates or associates, (ii) represents the business judgment of the portfolio manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund, (iii) is in compliance with RBC GAM policies and procedures, and (iv) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. RBC GAM policy requires that an investment decision in respect of Inter-Fund Trading is in the best interests of each Fund.

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to shareholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Effective March 1, 2020, the administration fees for Series A mutual fund shares were reduced to 0.13% from 0.18%. If the changes to the administration fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended March 31, 2020, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 2.17%.

Effective June 30, 2016, the management fees for Series A mutual fund shares were reduced to 1.75% from 1.85%. If the changes to the management fees would have been in effect throughout the financial year ended March 31, 2017, the adjusted MER for each series of the Fund would be: Series A – 2.19%.

Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund’s performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund’s performance has changed from year to year.
