MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide investors with income and the potential for long-term capital growth by investing primarily in a well-diversified, balanced portfolio of fixed-income and equity securities from anywhere around the world. To achieve the Fund's investment objective, the portfolio manager invests a significant portion or even all of the net asset value of the Fund in other funds managed by RBC GAM where the investment is consistent with the investment objectives and strategies of the Fund.

The Fund uses a strategic asset allocation approach that determines the appropriate asset mix with broad pre-established guidelines for each asset class. The Fund's target weightings for each asset class are 60% for fixed-income, 13% for Canadian equities, 24% for global equities and 3% for emerging-markets equities. The target weightings for each asset class may be adjusted based on changes in the market outlook for each asset class. The actual allocation to each class will be no more than 15% above or below the target weighting for the fixed-income asset class and no more than 10% above or below the target weighting for each equities asset class.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net asset value was $811,000 as of June 30, 2025.

Over the past six months, the Fund's Series O units gained 4.1%. The Fund's return is after the deduction of expenses. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

Trade negotiations dominated the direction of financial markets during the first six months of 2025 as early optimism that the Trump administration would focus on deregulating the economy gave way to concern that he would instead implement across-the-board tariffs on U.S. trade partners. The outlook subsequently improved as the U.S. administration reached trade agreements that ensured a worst-case scenario would not unfold. Geopolitical turmoil in the Middle East sent oil prices surging toward the end of the period on fears of a wider conflict and instability in the region, but they came back down after tensions eased. The U.S. Federal Reserve left its benchmark interest rate unchanged in a range between 4.25% and 4.50% as concern that the tariff war would spark inflation outweighed worries that the economy was slowing.

The Fund's overweight position in stocks and underweight position in fixed income had a positive effect on returns. Government fixed income delivered overall gains in the first half of 2025, as coupon income from bonds issued in the U.S. and China and rising bond prices in emerging markets offset the negative impact of rising interest rates – and falling bond prices – in Europe and Japan.

Investors faced challenges ranging from the inflationary and growth effects of Trump's tariffs to the outbreak of war between Israel and Iran. Canadian bonds delivered minimal returns through the first six months of 2025, as concerns regarding higher-than-expected inflation from U.S. tariffs led investors to demand higher yields on most fixed-income securities. The Bank of Canada cut interest rates twice early in the year, bringing the policy rate down by 2.25 percentage points since June 2024 to 2.75% as of June 30 of this year. Riskier emerging-market bonds delivered strong gains, outperforming investment-grade issuers such as China, Malaysia and Indonesia. Overall, the Fund's fixed-income holdings had a positive impact on portfolio performance, led by the Phillips, Hager & North Bond Fund.

U.S. stocks retreated from all-time highs established early in the year after Trump announced his tariffs but then rebounded to finish the period near their highs. The Information Technology sector continued to support U.S. equities, while the Consumer Discretionary sector lagged. European stocks outperformed U.S. stocks due to a shift by investors to euro-denominated assets, as well as Germany's decision to boost government spending after decades of conservative fiscal policy. In emerging markets, an equity recovery in China, which accounts for about a third of the emerging-market benchmark, bolstered emerging-market equity performance. One of the most notable emerging-market developments in 2025 was the release of an artificial-intelligence ("AI") model introduced by China's DeepSeek. The release of this AI service, which might be competitive with U.S. AI leaders such as ChatGPT, boosted investor impressions of Chinese technology companies and emerging-market technology stocks in general. The Fund's equity positions had a positive impact on portfolio performance, led by the Phillips, Hager & North Canadian Equity Underlying Fund.

Recent Developments

Tariffs will exert a substantial drag on economic growth over the second half of 2025, but probably not to the extent of causing a global recession. The portfolio manager looks for mid-single-digit returns from sovereign bonds over the year ahead, with only modest valuation risk. Stocks offer slightly better return potential, particularly outside of U.S. large caps. The Fund is carrying an overweight position in stocks and an equivalent underweight position in fixed income.

Related-Party Transactions

Both the management fee and fixed administration fee are calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of the net asset value of each series of units of the Fund.

RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn fees and spreads in connection with various services provided to, or transactions with, the Fund, such as banking, brokerage, securities lending, foreign exchange and derivatives transactions. RBC GAM or its affiliates may earn a foreign exchange spread when unitholders switch between series of funds denominated in different currencies. Ratios and Supplemental Data

¹ The management expense ratio ("MER") is based on the direct expenses charged to the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of the expenses of underlying funds, if any, for the stated period, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. RBC GAM may, at its discretion and without notice to unitholders, waive or absorb certain operating expenses. MER includes the waiver or absorption by RBC GAM of certain operating expenses, while the MER before absorption shows the MER prior to operating expenses being waived or absorbed by RBC GAM.

² The Fund's portfolio turnover rate gives an indication of the level of activity employed by the portfolio manager. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not applicable to money market funds.

³ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund and the Fund's proportionate share of such costs of underlying funds expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The trading expense ratio is not applicable to fixed-income transactions.

Management Fees and Administration Fees

Management fees and administration fees of each series of the Fund are payable to RBC GAM and calculated at the following annual percentages, before GST/HST, of the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund. The management fee, breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fee, as a percentage of the management fee, and the administration fee for each series are as follows:

	Management Fees	Breakdown of Services		Administration Fees
		Distribution	Other*
Series 0	n/a	n/a	n/a	0.01%

Series 0 — no management fees are paid by the Fund with respect to Series 0 units. Series 0 unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to RBC GAM for investment-counselling services.

* Includes all costs related to management, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, optional charges or income taxes payable that would have reduced returns or performance. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future. A fund with more than 10 years of performance history is only permitted to disclose the past 10 years.

Year-by-Year Returns (%)

The bar chart indicates the Fund's performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the end of the financial year or interim period.

Series 0 units have been available for sale to unitholders since July 15, 2019.

Inception dates are not provided for series that have been in existence for more than 10 years.
