Commentary as at June 30, 2019

The S&P/TSX Composite Index joined other global equity markets in rebounding from declines recorded in late 2018. A number of macroeconomic developments continue to be the focus for equity investors, including the outlook for global trade, the path and pace of global economic growth, and their combined impact on corporate earnings. The uncertain economic backdrop has resulted in central banks moving to a more cautious approach on monetary policy, which has supported equity valuations.

The S&P/TSX Composite is the headline index for the Canadian equity market. The index contained 239 issues as of June 28, 2019. The best-performing sectors were Financials, Energy and Industrials. The worst-performing sectors were Healthcare, Real Estate and Consumer Staples.

Effective April 9, 2019, BlackRock Asset Management Canada Limited became the sub-advisor of the RBC Canadian Index Fund, replacing State Street Global Advisors, Ltd. On April 9, the Fund's benchmark was also changed to track the S&P/TSX Capped Composite Total Return Index.
